ITS ADOPTION RECOMMENDED

Ways and Means Committee of the House

TAKES THAT ACTION AT SESSION TODAY

The Vote Is Not Strictly on Party Lines.

It Stands Thirteen to Six, Broussard, of Louisiana, One of the New Democratic Members, Voting with the Republicans—It Is Expected That New Tariff Measure Will Be Completed by Middle of June.

Washington, March 18.—A report recommending the adoption of the new tariff bill was decided upon at a meeting of the ways and means committee today. No changes were made in the measure from the form in which it was introduced yesterday The vote favoring it was thirteen to six, and was on party lines except that Representative Broussard, of Louisiana, one of the new Democratic members, voted with the Republicans.

The Democrats were given until next Tuesday to prepare a minority report.

This was done because none of the Democrats became acquainted with the provisions of the measure until it was introduced by Representative Payne Wednesday.

Champ Clark, the Democratic leader and the leading member of that party on the ways and means committee, was as much in ignorance of the contents of the bill as any of his colleagues until that moment arrived. In fact, every newspapers in the country had a full synopsis of the proposed legislation in type long before Champ Clark knew with certainty any of its provisions. That was where the newspapers had a "scoop" on the Democrats of the house.

Because of the brief time they have had in which to glance over the bill, the Democrats have not outlined their plan of action. They have not prepared a bill of their own to present as a substitute, but it is anticipated that they will prepare a minority report which will set forth any objections they may have.

There is no intention on their part to delay action in the committee, but they will insist that ample time shall be given them on the floor of the house to present amendments. The bill is apparently such a genuine revision of the tariff that they are disposed to be suspicious of it, and are eagerly searching its pages to find a possible "joker."

At the senate end there are many expressions of disapproval among Republicans, of the proposed rate cuts, and it is evident that a great many amendments will be submitted there. It is expected that a couple of months will be required to pass the bill in the senate, and then there may be a week or two during which representatives of the house and senate will meet to adjust the differences between the two houses.

This conference committee, to be composed of six men, three from each house, will put the final touches on the bill, and, until their work is completed, no one will know just what the new tariff law will be.

The middle of June is regarded as a conservative prediction as to the date when the bill will be sent to the president for his signature.

Reported to House.

Washington, March 18.—Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee, reported the tariff bill back to the house at 12:02 o'clock today with the recommendation of the committee that it pass.

Connected by Traction.

Moundsville, W. Va., March 18.—Moundsville, Wheeling and other West Virginia cities, together with Steubenville, and Ohio cities on the river were connected by trolley with Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Wisconsin by the opening of the Youngstown & Ohio River trolley line between here and Youngstown Wednesday.

Hold Zelaya Responsible.

Washington, March 18.—Despite President Zelaya's plea, that Nicaragua is on the defensive against the other Central American republics, despatches from American diplomatic agents received at the state department today, indicate that the blame is entirely upon Zelaya for the manifestations of warlike activity.

TWELVE MURDERERS AWAITING TRIAL

Whisky Figures in the Case of Every One of Them.

Indianapolis, March 18.—Within the steel walls of the Marion county jail here, for the first time in the history of the county, twelve murderers are awaiting trial.

Every one of the dozen murders were committed when the murderers were in a drunken condition. Almost every conceivable cause for murder is included with one remarkable case of no cause at all, except the murderer's desire to "kill somebody."

The murders include that of a wife by a drunken husband who did not like the breakfast his wife had prepared for him, but who coolly finished the meal, with the butchered wife's body lying at his feet. The cases run on through those for murder while committing highway robbery, to the drunken Robert Jolly, who poured fiery carbolic acid down his little five-year-old daughter's throat. Public sentiment is so aroused that Mayor Bookwalter in his speech at the St. Patrick's day celebration took the subject for his remarks. He said the climax was reached yesterday morning when a negro stepped up behind Patrick Carroll, whom he had never seen before, and killed him. Within the last week three murders have been committed and Governor Marshall has paroled three murderers, who were sent up about ten years ago for life.

Seven Musical Sons of Italy Are Outgeneraled,

BY WILY MANAGER OF THE MANHATTAN

Who Tells Them They Are at Liberty To Go.

Upon the Announcement That Hammerstein Proposes To Give the Preference to French Operas, Next Season, the Seven in Question Threaten To Sing No More for Him After the Present Opera Season.

New York, March 18.—Clearly the services of a "walking delegate" are heeded by the Italian warblers that delight the audiences that gather at Oscar Hammerstein's grand-opera emporium.

With the instinct to strike thoroughly implanted within the emotional breasts of at least seven of the musically-throated sons of Italy, they tried their best to stir up trouble for the wily Oscar, in retaliation of his order that French operas would be given the preference over Italian next season, but the revolt bids fair today to be an unprecedented fizzle, and all because the aggrieved songbirds don't know what to do next.

Constantino, Sammarlo, DeSegurola, Agostinelli, Arimondi, Zanatello and Gianoli-Galletti are the seven that got themselves together and after due and careful consideration decided that if Oscar continued in his terrible determination, they would never again sing for him after this season.

Now, was the wily Oscar perturbed when he heard of the doings of his musical hirelings? It wouldn't be Oscar if he had lost his aplomb. Even before the recalcitrants' communication had reached him, he sent the cutest and most polite notices to all of his opera force that they could leave at the end of the present season if they saw fit. All could feel at perfect liberty to sing whereso'er they choose next season, etc, etc.

"Per Bacco!" "Diavolo!" and a lot of others. What show did they have to win? They don't want to quit their soft berths at the Manhattan, but they certainly did not want Hammerstein to know it.

A good union organizer might help matters out, but for the present deep gloom enshrouds the erstwhile sunny signors.

Noted Historian Dead.

UNCLE SAM IS NOT BANKRUPT

Treasury Receipts for March Show Big Gain.

COOLEDGE MAKES THAT STATEMENT

Assistant Secretary Says Obligations Are Met.

All Bills Being Completely Paid When Due—Figures Show That Government's Financial Condition Is First-Class When Compared with Former Years—He Gives Lie to the Sensational Rumors.

Washington, March 17.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Coolidge has issued a statement in which he declares that the treasury outlook today is better than it has been for many months, and in which he gives figures that show a marked improvement as far as the government receipts are concerned. His statement follows, in part:

"There is no foundation for the widely circulated report that the payment of over $50,000,000 of claims against the government now due has been postponed by the treasury for want of ready cash.

"On the contrary, the department is abreast of demands upon it, honoring requisitions, and no necessary payments are postponed for future action.

"All claims are met as fast as appropriations therefor are made by congress. The revenues from imports have recently shown substantial gains, and should these continue the treasury is in good condition to await the approaching readjustment of the tariff.

Outlook Is Better.

"So far from the treasury being in a desperate way, the outlook is better than it has been before in months. The revenues for the first 15 days of March have been $26,430,756, as against $20,785,256 for the corresponding period a year ago, an improvement of over 27 per cent, while the excess of expenditures over receipts for the same period has been $1,509,243, as against $4,374,743, an improvement of over 65 per cent. The revenues for the first 15 days of March were greater than for any corresponding period in the past five years.

"The excess of expenditures over receipts for the fiscal year to date is $87,871,223, which is slightly in excess of the estimate of Secretary Cortelyon at the beginning of the last session of congress. The average daily excess of expenditures over receipts for the entire fiscal year to date has been $340,586. In January the average daily excess was $501,414. Had this continued, as seemed possible for a time, the outlook might have been less favorable, but since the first week in February there has been a marked improvement. It will be seen that the condition of the treasury does not justify the disturbing reports which have gained currency."

LAMYER DIES TRYING TO AROUSE NEIGHBORS

By Throwing Dishes on the Walk in Front of House.

Cleveland, March 18.—About midnight Harry Lamyers' neighbors were awakened by the crash of breaking dishes outside his house. No one investigated until an hour later when a policeman found the sidewalk littered with broken crockery and knocked on Lamyer's door. Getting no response, he climbed through a window and found Lamyer lying dead on the floor with one hand clutching his throat. More broken dishes surrounded him.

Lamyer suffered from a growth in the throat. He awoke last night gasping for breath. He was unable to cry out, but alone in his dying struggles he threw dish after dish out of the window hoping to attract aid. He strangled to death before help came.

Lamyer was alone in the house, his wife and children being in Toledo.

E. H. HARRIMAN,
The Railroad Wizard Denies That He Will Retire from Active Business.

ARRESTED FOR INTOXICATION

While Making a Local-Option Address,

PASTOR IS CONFINED IN POLICE STATION

Liberated Through Intercession of Wet Leader.

Rev. Francis Carruthers, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church at New Waterford, Is Central Figure of Unpleasant Incident at Youngstown—Claims He Is Not Intoxicated and Is Victim of Plot.

Youngstown, O., March 18.—Rev. Francis Carruthers, pastor of the Presbyterian church of New Waterford, a leader in the dry campaign by which the saloons were voted out of Columbiana county and booked by the temperance workers to assist in the coming option fight in Mahoning county, was locked up in the Youngstown police station for three hours, Wednesday night, on the charge of intoxication.

Through the intercession of E. H. Moore, leader of the wet forces in the Mahoning county-option fight just begun, Rev. Mr. Carruthers was released by the police.

Rev. Mr. Carruthers came to Youngstown yesterday afternoon to pay a pastoral call on Mrs. William Moore, organist at his church in New Waterford, who is sick here. In the evening he started out to make a few temperance speeches before returning home.

At 7:30 p. m. the pastor was addressing a crowd on the street near the saloon of John Moore on the evils of the liquor traffic. The patrolman on the beat, attracted by the crowd and the speaking, stopped to listen. He decided that the speech of the pastor was marked by more than temperance fervor and placed him under arrest.

Marked "Intoxicated."

At the police station he was placed on the blotter as "intoxicated."

Rev. Mr. Carruthers protested against his arrest, declaring that he was not intoxicated and had not been drinking. His arrest, he charged, was the result of a deal fixed up by enemies among the wets.

E. H. Moore, leader of the wet forces in Mahoning county, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. William Moore, New Waterford organist, on whom Rev. Mr. Carruthers had called during the afternoon. The pastor turned to him for assistance. Moore came to the police station, and through his intercession the minister was released.

The patrolman who made the ar-

CONFLICTING INTERVIEWS

Regarding the Future Course of E. H. Harriman

ARE PUZZLING TO THE FINANCIERS

Some Scout the Story That He Will Retire.

Others Hold That Such Is His Intention, and That the Conflicting Stories Are Sent Out Merely To Try Out Wall Street and See What Effect His Retirement Would Have on Stocks.

New York, March 18.—New York's financial interests, particularly in railroad circles, are puzzled today over the conflicting interviews that are declared to have been given out last night by E. H. Harriman, the "railway wizard" at Pasadena, California, relative to the question of his retirement from active participation in his many financial ventures.

The first story was to the effect that Harriman told a group of newspaper men, whom he had summoned to his hotel, that, on the advice of his doctors, he had decided to "drop the game," exercising in the future only an advisory interest in his railroads.

This interview was followed shortly by another, in which the great financier was made to say that he did not intend to curtail in the slightest degree his activities; that he "couldn't retire if he wanted to," and that he was in as good health as ever and had many big deals that he hoped to put through.

Story Is Discredited.

Intimates of Harriman wholly discredit the retirement story. They declare that Harriman's recent movements clearly indicate that he intends to stay at the helm for several years yet.

Others, however, credit the report that Harriman's condition is such as to necessitate his early relinquishment of the tremendous load that he has carried for so long. They say the purpose of the conflicting statements is merely to see what effect the rumor of his retirement would have on Wall street.

If it is seen that too great a flurry doesn't follow the threatened withdrawal of Harriman, it is predicted that he will shortly make a positive declaration of his intention to unload his work upon other shoulders.

Harriman recently celebrated his sixty-first birthday anniversary. It is known that his family has been urging him for some time to give up his active participation in railroad work.

Story Is Denied.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 18.—"There is absolutely no foundation to the report that I intend to retire from business."

This was the statement issued this morning by E. H. Harriman when asked regarding the rumors circulated today in Wall street.

The report that Harriman was about to retire was based on a statement the financier made to a reporter last night to the effect that Harriman's physicians had instructed him to lead a less strenuous existence. This statement he repeated today, saying it was simply an explanation of the frequency of his vacations. Following is exactly what Harriman said:

"I have always been too busy to think much about myself; but now I am just beginning to realize that there is a possible hereafter. I have worked pretty hard, you know, and the directors are beginning to tell me that the other fellow ought to have a chance to do something. I have worked hard because I like doing things. I like to bring things out all right. I like to grasp an idea, work it out, and bring it finally to a successful conclusion. That's about all there is in life for any of us."

Thomas Price, Harriman's private secretary, when seen at the Hotel Raymond today, denied that his chief had an intention of retiring.

"There is absolutely no truth in the statement that Mr. Harriman intends to retire. His health is better now than it has been in many years and he won't think of abandoning his great work. The Wall street bears have simply been having a little fun overnight."

Dr. George A. Dixon, Harriman's private physician, scouted the idea that the magnate would be forced to retire on account of ill health.

"Mr. Harriman has not been in better health for years that he is today," said he. "His improvement during the southern trip was very apparent. He is not only capable of carrying on his work, but I am certain that he intends to do so."

Harriman's Project.

New York, March 18.—The "joker" in the alleged interview that E. H. Harriman gave out in Pasadena, California, in which he was reported as intending to retire from his railway activities at an early date, was discovered today in the opinion of several of Harriman's Wall street intimates, to be his intention of building a railway line from Nogales, on the Mexican-Arizona border, down the Pacific coast through Mexico and Central American states to the City of Panama, there to connect with the Panama railway, which parallels the canal route.

Far from having any thought of retiring, Harriman is declared by his friends to have his mind now centered on one of the boldest projects that he has yet undertaken. The Harriman extension into Mexico has also been completed for more than 700 miles. Within a short time the line will reach Guadalajara, one of the most important Mexican cities. The projected line to the city of Panama, it is said, will be finished by the time the canal is built.

SERIOUS ILLNESS OF THE POPE DENIED

Deeply Concerned Over Assassination of Petrosino.

Rome, March 18.—Positive assurance from the highest Vatican circles dispute recent publications that the Pope's illness is serious. The Pope still feels the effect of his February attack of influenza and is bothered by an obstinate hoarseness and difficulty in breathing, but is without fever and is able to leave his apartments and hold a few audiences.

The Pope fully appreciates the delicate condition of his health. He recently told Belgian Archbishop Mercier, who recalled the efficient policy of Leo XIII toward Belgium: "Really, my predecessor was so fine a diplomat that he deceived, even time itself. Unfortunately, however, I fear my ailments will prevent my lesser diplomatic qualifications from reaching that stage of perfection."

The Pope is deeply concerned over the assassination of Petrosino, the New York Black Hand detective, in Sicily. During his interview with Monsignor Kelly and a band of 201 American pilgrims, he expressed the greatest regret over the murder. He said he had no doubt that the Italian and American governments, working together, would yet stamp out the Black Hand, which he referred to as the "shame of humanity."

Fears Burial Alive.

London, March 18.—Fearing that he might be buried alive, the late Lord Burton, whose estate is valued at $5,000,000, provided in his will that before being placed in the coffin, a competent surgeon should sever his spine and spinal marrow at the neck and that his heart should be removed and placed in a separate coffin.

BIG RIVAL OF STEEL TRUST

Is Being Organized for Active Competition.

NEWS OF MERGER CLOSELY GUARDED

Those Interested Refuse To Make Statement.

The Combined Capital of the Companies Said To Be Interested Is Enormous—It Amounts to $167,250,000—Morgan Asked To Organize It, but the Financial Wizard Pleads Advancing Years.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 18.—Careful inquiry, calculated to discover some details in connection with the plans for the formation of another giant steel corporation, the purpose of which is competition with the United States Steel corporation, failed this morning of any result, save to cause those interrogated to become extremely reticent, and by this reticence infer that the project is fully shaped.

In the merger, as far as can be learned, are the Lackawanna Steel company, at Buffalo; the Bethlehem Steel company, Charles M. Schwab's concern; the Cambria Steel company, at Johnstown, Pennsylvania; the Maryland Steel company, at Sparrows Point, Maryland, and the Jones & Laughlin Steel company, of this city.

J. Pierpont Morgan, who so successfully organized the United States Steel corporation, was asked to make concrete the new concern, but he declined because of the great amount of work involved, and because of his advanced age. John W. Gates has taken up the plan in his stead, and is backed by some of the leading steel men of the country.

The project had its inception last fall when the financial interests of the Lackawanna Steel company, the Pennsylvania Steel company and its various holdings, and the Cambria and Maryland companies, discussed a combine. Then Charles M. Schwab was asked to come in. About the same time the Jones & Laughlin company was broached and became interested.

Morgan Refuses To Act.

A conference was held and the project was laid before J. P. Morgan, who took it under advisement, saying that he wished to bring it to the attention of his legal advisers before making a final decision.

In this course, it is said, Mr. Morgan considered the likely attitude of the rigid government at Washington, in the matter of treating great industrial corporations.

Mr. Morgan consulted two of the ablest corporation lawyers in the country. One of them is said to have endorsed the combination, and expressed the opinion that every detail would come within the government's restrictions. The other lawyer was not so sure of this.

Taking his advice in consideration, and realizing that the merger meant two years of hard work, Mr. Morgan decided that at his advanced age he did not care to assume the task of organization. Accordingly Mr. Gates was interested.

The officials of the steel trust, it is said, are favorable to the new combination, preferring to have one great competitor than half a dozen individual companies. It is argued that competition would be simplified.

The combined capital of the companies originally interested in the proposed merger is tremendous. The present financial reports of the companies show that the combined stock issued is to the value of $167,250,000.

THE CENSUS BILL IS REINTRODUCED

It Will Be Considered Under Special Rule.

Washington, March 18.—Consideration of the census bill under a special rule is proposed by the house leaders.

Representative Crumpacker, chairman of the census committee of last session, early in the week reintroduced the measure as it passed the house and senate last session. It is expected that the bill, as vetoed by President Roosevelt, because of his objections to the spoils system of appointing employes, now will be passed with the concession of competitive examination of applicants.

confessedly without any provocation whatever, but with just a desire to kill somebody, walked up behind Patrick Carroll, near Washington and Illinois streets, Wednesday, and shot Carroll down. Laughing at seeing his victim fall, Shelton continued to fill Carroll's prostrate body with bullets, killing him.

The negro said he did not know who the man was and that he did not care. The shooting took place about 8 o'clock in the business center of the city, and caused a panic. The police hustled Shelton to jail.

Carroll never saw his murderer approaching him, and died without regaining consciousness.

PROVIDING SEATS FOR RETIRED PRESIDENTS

May Sit in the House and Debate, but Not Vote.

Washington, March 17.—A grist of bills introduced in the house by Bennet, New York, Tuesday, included one to give retired presidents seats in the house, the same pay as members, and the right to engage in debate, but not to vote.

Bennet also wants a commission, consisting of five senators and five representatives to find out all about the character and effect of liquor legislation and the liquor traffic, and report the result of the investigation to congress.

HARMON VETOES RECORDERS' BILL

Their Salaries Will Not Be Raised for the Present.

Columbus, O., March 17.—Governor Harmon on grounds of economy vetoed the bill passed by the legislature at its last session granting an increase in salaries to county recorders throughout the state. A strong newspaper campaign had been made against the bill, as well as against two extending the terms of auditors and clerks, which failed to pass.

The governor signed the general appropriation bill passed by the recent session of the general assembly, appropriating $7,600,000. Among the big items was a total of $363,000 for canals, against which much agitation had been made.

BUCKEYE FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE

When His Wife Objects to Sale of Farm Implements.

Urbana, O., March 17.—The wife of William O. Prince, thirty-seven, farmer, living four miles west of town, left two months ago. Wednesday he was to dispose of his farm imprements at public sale. Mrs. Prince arrived on the scene to stop the auction. Prince made an excuse to go to his father's house to telephone and didn't return. The crowd waited, became impatient, and investigated. Prince was found hanging by his neck in his father's barn, dead.

Will Be Tested in the Courts of Franklin County.

Columbus, March 18.—The action brought by the American Trust and Savings Bank company, of Zanesville, to restrain State Bank Superintendent B. B. Seymour from putting into effect an order requiring trust companies to increase their capital stock to $100,000 by April 1, 1910, raises the constitutionality of the Thomas banking act, which is set to go into effect at that time. On Saturday the attorney general will demur to the petition of the bank, which is filed in the common pleas court of Franklin county, and this will bring up the question of whether or not the law is sound. The company attacks the validity of the law in a general way and avers that if the order to increase its capital stock is carried out that it will work a hardship on the institution, its method of business being based on the old law under which it was organized and under which plan it is now operating. The capital stock of the bank is $35,000. All trust company banks in the state will be affected by the decision.

AN ANTI-TOXIN FOR HOG CHOLERA

Experiments To Be Continued and Warfare To Be Waged.

Columbus, O., March 18.—A pathologist is to be employed by the state to pursue the experiments with hog cholera anti-toxin discovered by Dr. Paul Fischer, the state veterinarian. At the request of Dr. Fischer, the state board of agriculture today voted to employ a pathologist at a salary of $2,000 per year.

The legislature voted $18,000 to the state veterinarian for the prosecution of a crusade against hog cholera and other livestock contagions.

In line with this crusade, the board of agriculture today adopted a resolution asking Governor Harmon to issue a proclamation prohibiting the importation into Ohio of non-inspected livestock. The laws permit the governor to issue such a proclamation and adjoining states have taken similar steps. The result is that the diseased livestock that can not be sent to neighboring states is being dumped in Ohio.

BETTER PRICE WANTED BY THE PRODUCERS

Chardon, O., March 18.—Following action by buyers of syrup dealers, when the price of maple syrup in bulk was cut to forty-five cents a gallon—the lowest price ever posted in Geauga county—farmers and producers of Hampden township called a meeting at the Chardon town hall and organized to hold their remaining product for a price not lower than seventy cents.

Resolutions were passed asking producers of other townships to take similar action.

...it passed the yard signal ... stopping the head brakeman became alarmed and clambered onto the engine. He found the cab unoccupied and tried to set the brakes. At first they failed to work but he managed to get them started as the train hit the end of the track and the train was running about twenty miles an hour when it hit the station. The coupling between the passenger and baggage cars broke and the engine tender and baggage car continued through the wall into the ladies waiting room which was filled with Italian immigrants waiting to go west. The girl and interpreter were instantly killed and eight others were hurt.

City firemen and railway employes soon rescued those hurt and they were sent to the hospitals. For a time the city was filled with rumors and it was reported many had been killed but investigation set these at rest.

The passengers on the train had miraculous escapes from death, the action of the brakeman being responsible for their safety.

Search of the ruins raised the death list to four, a woman and a boy's body being found under the debris, while there is a possibility that there may be others there.

It is now stated that several of the injured in the hospitals are much more badly hurt than the earlier reports indicated. Mrs. Albert Zusar and Leonard Malzer, of Albany, New York, are among the more seriously hurt. Don Garophy, the oldest hotel porter in the city, is also in a bad way, with two broken legs and internal injuries. A girl, Mabel Murdock, who was in a doorway of the station, was hurled thirty feet and picked up unconscious, but it is thought she will recover.

A clerk, named Boch, is pinioned under the debris and a force of men is trying to reach him. He can be heard moaning. Owing to the fear that the ruined station will collapse, only those who are working there are permitted on the scene.

RETALIATION OF UNITED STATES

Laws Are Aimed Against England and Germany.

Washington, March 18.—A bill providing for retaliation by the United States against laws enacted in England and Germany requiring foreign inventions to be manufactured in these countries before patent rights are recognized, has been introduced in the house by Representative Stephens, Democrat, Texas, and it is his intention to press its passage at this special session.

The bill is sweeping in its provisions and makes it necessary for a citizen of a foreign country who applies for a patent to subject himself to the same rules and regulations governing its use and control, as the government of such foreign country imposes upon citizens of the United States.

Washington, March ...—Senator Gallinger, Republican, New Hampshire, will, when the senate meets again on Friday, renew his long fight for a ship subsidy. He will introduce a bill giving four dollars a mile for carrying first-class mail on new lines to Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Peru, and to the countries beyond the Pacific ocean. The bill will differ from the ocean mail bill, which failed of passage on March 2 by three votes in the house, in that it does not increase compensation of third-class steamers of fourteen knots, and does not specify the ports from which lines shall run, nor fix any limit of expenditures.

Harmon Vetoes Bill.

Columbus, O., March 18.—Governor Harmon today filed with the secretary of state his veto of the Donson bill, No. 1640, which sought to increase the levy for free public hospitals from one to two mills. The ground for the veto is that the bill by mistake repeals a section of the statute already repealed, which it leaves untouched in the one mill statute which should have been repealed.

...556, as compared with $192,847,991.

The company's bonded mortgages and debenture debt during the year showed a net decrease of $7,454,977, making the total to December 31 last, $594,865,534.

On December 31, the aggregate book valuation of the inventories of all the properties equalled $143,179,629 in comparison with the total for the preceding year of $136,188,874. This increase is attributed chiefly to the larger quantities on hand at the close of 1908 of iron ore, pig iron, close of 1908 of iron ore, pig tin and smelters.

SENATORS AND OFFICES.

Some offices have been created and the emoluments of others have been increased during the recent session of congress. This fact need not worry congressmen, since the terms of all of them expired March 1, and they could be appointed to any of the offices in question, whether they have been reelected or not. But among hold-over senators there is food for reflection in the situation. Although the salary of the presidency has been increased during their terms of office, hold-over senators are not made ineligible since it is an elective and not an appointive office. The constitution is inhibitory, however, as to appointive offices the emoluments of which have been increased.

Senators whose terms began before March 1 and did not expire on that date are barred from all cabinet appointments, for example, except that of secretary of state. Other more or less desirable offices are closed to thirty-one senators whose terms will not expire until March 3, 1913. The terms of thirty senators will expire March 3, 1911, and some of them, unfortunately may not be reelected, in which case their eligibility to appointment to desirable offices might be a matter of poignant concern to them. Since Mr. Knox's case received such a thorough discussion, it is not likely that any place will be offered to a senator unless his eligibility is beyond question; and no senator whose term expires in 1911 or 1913 can be appointed to such offices until his term has expired. Sometimes senators who forsee defeat are extremely desirous of obtaining an appointment before their service is ended. The theory is held in some quarters that a senator can secure another position easier than an ex-senator.

The possible embarrassment resulting from an increase of official salaries extends, therefore, into the future, and perhaps more than one senator may conclude that the generosity of the sixtieth congress was most untimely.—Washington Post.

It's easier for the average man to quit drinking if he wants to than it is for him to want to.

...retary of State Knox dispatched to Senor Espinosa, the Nicaraguan minister, and which is supposed to contain a statement of the American government's present attitude on the Emery claim, which the United States has been trying to have arbitrated for years. Secretary Knox declined to say anything about the communication.

The secretary has been discussing the Central American situation with public men and with his congressional callers during the short period he has been in the state department, and it is known that he wants to see an end in sight of the perennial disturbances which are a menace to the welfare of the various countries and a source of annoyance to the United States.

FRIENDS.

An unusual example of strong personal attachment between two individuals in whom sentiment might have been supposed to have been crowded aside by the pressing responsibilities which rested upon both, is furnished in President Taft's generous and eloquent tribute to Theodore Roosevelt which was made public in Collier's Weekly of March 6.

With all the importunate demands made upon their time by the great affairs exacting their active attention, President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt found opportunity to study the individual traits of each other, and to become sincere and devoted friends.

That this sentiment was not hindered or in any sense weakened by the sharp contrast in the temperaments of these two men or by conditions that might have excited rivalry or distrust in persons of a less noble mind than that in which the president and the ex-president are cast, is demonstrated in a manner at once convincing and felicitous by Mr. Taft's tender and spontaneous testimonial to his predecessor in the White House. The "close and sweet intimacy," to quote the language of the new president, which has existed for years between him and Theodore Roosevelt, makes it happily obvious that the force and the positive qualities that equip men to perform great works fit them also for the enjoyment of sympathetic and endearing friendships.—Kansas City Star.

BARRELS OF BEER EMPTIED INTO RUN

Brewery Unable To Dispose of It in Dry Territory.

Bryan, O., March 17.—Five hundred barrels of beer were emptied into Lynn run, Tuesday afternoon. The beer had been stored in the cellars of the Halm Brewing company since last November, when Williams county was voted "dry" under the Rose law.

Not being able to ship the beer, the brewers were at a loss to know how to dispose of it, so the revenue officers sent an inspector to Bryan with orders to turn the liquid into the sewer. The beer was valued at $2,500.

rest reported to Chief McDowell that he had been told that Rev. Mr. Carruthers had been drinking in the saloon of John Moore before beginning his street speech. Before he made the arrest, he said, men in the crowd told him that at intervals during the speech refreshments were brought to the speaker from the saloon and that the temperance talk was interrupted temporarily while the speaker partook thereof.

After his release Rev. Mr. Carruthers spent the night at the Savoy hotel. Early Thursday a committee of three from his church called on him there and he left in their company.

Supporters of the pastor charge that a deal was framed by certain members of his congregation who oppose his temperance stand to cause his arrest and discredit his temperance work. Many believe he was an unsuspecting victim of a "spiked" soft drink.

SATURDAY . . . . MARCH 20

Wonder if that Taft smile will be the same old smile after four years' service behind the pie counter.

Up to date we have not heard anything from Mr. Taft which would justify Wall street in getting out the New York brass band and celebrating.

Although our admiration for Mr. Taft is of the highest, we respectfully, but firmly, refuse to be beguiled by the Taft cigar.

However, the timid-hearted need not labor under the impression that Mr. Roosevelt imagines his proposed African trip will develop along the lines of a Sunday-school picnic.

There are drinks and drinks, but, barring water, what's better than a cup of delicious claret-colored sassafras tea?

The statement that there are $300,0000,000 in London banks which have remained unclaimed for years should help many a "family fortune" attorney to a pleasant summer trip.

The desk and pink tea soldiers do not appear to be any better off in the way of relief than the Wall street gang. The "test" rides are to continue.

Now that it is no more, let us speak kindly even of the late legislature.

Messrs. Taft and Roosevelt appear to be collaborating in the organization of a mutual admiration society.

Maybe the date of the inauguration will be changed by the time Colonel Bryan is inaugurated.

Don't be disheartened! Sooner or later we will have all about Mr. Taft's family there is to know, and then we may proceed in the even tenor of our way.

Colonel Bryan has not, as yet, made the slightest effort to break the will of Mr. Roosevelt by which "those policies" went to Mr. Taft.

Senator Rayner's little knock at Mr. Roosevelt in regard to the white rhinoceros turns out to be a bird that has come home to roost. It appears that white rhinoceroses were at one time common in Africa, the scientific name for the white variety being rhinoceros simus, and it is believed that they are yet extant.

However, it must be said for Mr. Roosevelt's messages that the advanced date for release and the actual date were generally one and the same.

It was generally expected that Governor Harmon would veto the county recorders' salary bill, and he responded to expectations. Governor Harmon has demonstrated that the county officers' lobby hasn't been able to place his neck inside one of its collars, for which the people of Ohio are to be congratulated. It is a relief to know that one branch of the state government, at least, refuses to bow before the county officers' association.

In case Democrats keep on refusing committee assignments, their constituents may begin to wonder what's the use of sending them to congress.

The manner in which the strikers have tied up the French postal, telegraph and telephone systems can hardly be considered an altogether good recommendation for government ownership of public utilities.

A writer in Harper's Weekly asks: "Can Americans talk?" That fellow has never attended a meeting of a church sewing society.

Although one man acquired what was known as a "golden nose" through his acquaintance with whisky, it may be safe to assume that his case was the exception which proved the ruby nose rule.

There was a lot of talk, of course, but it will be noticed that the old house smoothbore is doing business in the same old place in the same old way.

A number of well-meaning though possibly fussy old ladies who haven't a glimmer of a hope of ever presiding over the White House are doing their best, apparently, to tell Mrs. Taft how the job should be done.

When Mr. Roosevelt writes his history of American patriots it's a cinch it won't include the fellow who proposed that the deficit be made good by taxing baby carriages.

EXCLUDING UNDESIRABLES.

The report of the joint commission on immigration simply confirms what everybody knows. The laws for the exclusion of undesirable immigrants do not exclude. If the slippery Asiatics are included, it is no exaggeration to say that for every three undesirables caught in the law's toils one slips through the meshes. Though but a small proportion of the people who seek our shores are actually inimical to the progress of American institutions, when it is considered that the average yearly immigration goes above 700,000, it is obvious that some few thousands, at least, are yearly added to the worst element of our society.

The four most undesirable classes contributed by immigration to the population of the United States are the actual criminals, paupers, persons of a different or lower moral standard, and those of unassimilable races. For the exclusion of the first three classes any system of inspection or laws applicable only at the port of entry is wholly inadequate. The record of an immigrant's moral character, his capacity for self support, his possible worth as a citizen, should all be carefully passed upon by United States officers before he is ever allowed to set foot on board a ship bound for an American port. It is much easier to exclude undesirables before they have left their native land that it is to keep them out after they have reached a point from which it is possible, by divers schemes, to pass the immigration inspectors at the end of their journey.

Of course, congress cannot pass legislation that can be enforced on foreign soil without the cooperation of the foreign governments. But this government has the undoubted right to exclude such persons as it sees fit, and it should be possible, through treaty agreements, to have the fitness of all prospective immigrants determined before they leave home.

Men talk about the importance of the race problem and of the tariff question as being of paramount importance in the future of the United States. The one will take care of itself; the other is in a fair way of being solved. The immigration question has a more important bearing on the future of this country than either. The country is still waiting for the arrival of that statesman with a vision far-reaching enough to grasp its entire significance, with an intellect great enough to devise some wholly effective system for keeping it under control.—Washington Press.

RECORDERS' SALARY GRAB.

If there is one solitary county recorder in Ohio who accepted his job at a financial sacrifice he has not stood up to be counted. If there is one lone instance where the job went begging because of inadequate compensation, it has never been heard of. Rather, the pay attached to this clerical position is so much in excess of what the same sort of work is worth in private life that the office is eagerly sought as a lucrative political prize. There is absolutely no daylight argument to support the legislature's action in increasing the salaries of county recorders to a maximum of $7,000 a year.

Every man who supported this graft bill acted directly against the interests of his constituents, who should remember it against him. Elected and sworn to do his duty by the taxpayers, he served instead the county officers' lobby, which has no more decency or patriotism about it than a white rhinoceros. Encouraged by its success of Tuesday, this rapacious organization will be back in Columbus next winter, attempting to extend the provisions of its license to take unearned money from the public treasuries.

Some ground for hope that the next raid will fall is found in the fact that thirty-seven members of the lower house, a strong minority, had the courage to protest by their votes against the dictation of the lobby. And Governor Harmon has the power to veto the present grab.—Ohio State Journal

IS GUILTY OF SELLING BEER IN DRY TERRITORY

Hearing of Representative of Marion Brewery.

VERY LARGE CROWD HEARS THE EVIDENCE

Brewing Company's Attorneys Contend That Local-Option Law Is Without Force as to Brewing Companies Wholesaleing to Private Consumers—Police Court Notes.

George W. Ault, of Caledonia, who filed an affidavit against a representative of the Marion Brewing & Bottling company, alleging that, February 26, he purchased a case of beer at the brewery, withdrew the affidavit before the time set for the hearing, Wednesday afternoon, and filed a similar affidavit alleging that the sale was made to Isaac C. Stearns in his presence.

Owing to the unsafety of the city building the trial was held in the council chamber, Wednesday afternoon, and the lobby was well filled by spectators. Attorney W. E. Scofield represented the interests of the brewing company while the prosecution was represented by Attorneys Eymon & Thompson. Four witnesses testified in the case, all being called by the prosecution. Stearns testified to having made the purchase of twenty-four bottles of beer at the brewery on the day in question. Ault who was next on the stand, stated that he furnished the money for purchasing the beer and that he was reimbursed by the Law and Order league. After making the purchase he stated that they drove to the headquarters of the Law and Order league and reported. In answer as for what purpose he purchased the beer Ault said it was to test the local-option law.

At the close of the testimony the attorneys for the prosecution maintained in their argument that the charge was against a representative and that he was guilty of bootlegging. Counsel for the defense admitted the sale of beer at the brewery, but that it was the sale by a corporation. The attorney for the defense said that the Rose law did not intend to serve as a prohibition measure, that the manufacture was allowed, that the drinking in homes by the families was allowed, that the legislature in passing the law had the purpose in view of prohibiting the retail business, doing away with the saloons, and the brewery was not doing a retail business.

After the pleas of the attorneys were finished the mayor reserved his decision to look up a few laws pertaining to the case.

The decision of the mayor was given, at 10 o'clock, Thursday. The representative of the brewery was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs. The payment was suspended pending the filing of a bill of exceptions to carry the case to the common pleas court.

The trial of Gustavus Koenig, an employe of the Marion Brewing & Bottling company, charged with having sold a case of beer to David Cope, which was to have been held Thursday, has been postponed to a date to be agreed on by the attorneys.

An argument as to what they would do if each other under certain circumstances resulted in a fight between John Fisher and Shirle Judy, both colored, on north Main street Thursday. The men were separated by Bert Briggs, and Judy remained at Briggs' barber shop. After Briggs left for dinner, Fisher returned to the shop and hurled a stone which struck Judy above the right eye knocking him down and rendering him unconscious. Judy's scalp was laid open and Dr. J. M. Hoskins had to be called to dress the wound.

It is well to watch the virtues that employ press agents.

—is now open and we extend a cordial invitation to our many country friends to come, get acquainted with the beauties and advantages of this new and better store. You'll readily notice—

Stores are different (far different) in other things as well as their merchandise.

Stores (as a rule) are cold-blooded business affairs. But once in a while—one of them displays some of the "personal element."

And this "personal element" has always been one of the dominant features of Uhler-Phillips.

Customers are regarded as friends—not as merely shoppers with money to spend.

We can't just explain clearly our meaning—but when you come into this store you'll likely notice a difference in the way you are treated while you are buying—and after you have bought.

And it's a difference that most people like.

It's a difference that has caused people to have a warm regard for this store—as for a friend. A difference that causes you to feel perfectly free to come & go—whenever you please—without buying a penny's worth of goods.

And a difference which helps us to have the fullest confidence in each other.

EPITAPH OF THE FATHER OF TWENTY

On a Tombstone in a Wyandot County Cemetery.

Judge Daniel Babst, of Crestline, when sitting on the local bench in the common pleas court a few days ago, wrote the following and handed it to County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter:

Epitaph on tombstone in a Wyandot county kirk, south of Marseilles:

Samuel Simpson.
Died March 26, 1860,
Aged 51 yrs., 11 mo., 11 days.

Here lies the father of twenty;
He raised them all but some,
And when he died and left them,
The youngest was twenty-one.

Your mothers have gone and left you,
And now I lay by their side;
Dear children, now remember, that you must die,
And O! be prepared to meet us in the sky."

APPROVED BY THE GOVERNOR

Is the General Appropriation Bill in Its Entirety.

Columbus, O., March 17.—Before leaving for Cincinnati, Tuesday night, Governor Harmon approved the general appropriation bill in its entirety. He did not elect to veto a single item.

It has been expected that the governor would veto the item appropriating the salary for the elevator attendants in the judiciary building because it was taken from the account of the adjutant general and placed in the account of the supreme court, which gives the court instead of the adjutant general the power to appoint the attendants. It has been claimed that this was done in order to rob the Democrats of two petty offices.

Governor Harmon considered that two small acts would not make a good one sooner than two wrongs would make a right so he allowed the Republicans to get away with the two elevator jobs.

BEAUTIFUL STORE IS SCENE OF RECEPTION

Macken & Smith Are Hosts to Their Friends.

THE OPENING OF A NEW ESTABLISHMENT

Hundreds of People Visit the Store, at No. 123 East Center Street, and Are More Than Pleased with the Accommodations Offered the Patrons of the New Firm.

Magnificently furnished and beautifully lighted, the new store of Macken & Smith, at No. 123 east Center street, was greatly admired by the hundreds who attended the formal opening, Wednesday night.

From a chaotic mass of mercantile goods of only the day before had been evolved one of the most beautiful displays of men's clothing and furnishings ever seen in the city. The tension of weeks had been suddenly lifted as a result of the opening, and the well-known proprietors, Walter Macken and Charles F. Smith, beamed with pleasure upon their guests. Mrs. Macken and Mrs Smith were also present and gave to each visitor a carnation.

In the rear part of the store Baker's eight-piece orchestra, hidden behind a screen of glass and flowers, rendered pleasing music throughout the evening. People thronged through the handsomely-appointed store, the entire evening, admiring this and that.

In keeping with the custom of their metropolitan brothers, Messrs. Macken and Smith have installed rows of the most beautiful show cases made, and in these largely are kept, free from dust, the furnishings.

A noticeable feature of the new store is its lighting. Perhaps, there is not a better-lighted store anywhere. The brilliance rendered the place as light as day and greatly enhanced the beauty of the scene.

A modern room, with all its new things for the eye to admire, is something that buyers demand, and Macken & Smith have spared neither money nor pains in establishing a smart store.

Provisions Explained by New York Representative.

Represents Five Months' Work by the Ways and Means Committee of the House and a Year's Labor by Chairman Payne—Aim Is To Cut Down the Tariff on Necessities and Add on Luxuries.

Washington, March 17.—Congress received the new tariff bill today from the hands of Representative Payne, of New York, whose name it will bear.

Payne presented it as the product of five months' work by the ways and means committee, of which he is chairman, and nearly a year of his own labors.

During the deliberations of the committee there was a continual shifting of rates, and changes were made until almost the last hour.

The bill contains about 100,000 words, and is, therefore, twice as large as the Dingley law. It represents the judgment of the committee based on over 8,000 pages of printed testimony, 30,000 letters, and all known statistics bearing on the subject.

The estimated revenue under the tariff duties prescribed in the bill amount to $300,000,000. This is an increase of about $10,000,000 over the Dingley bill.

An inheritance tax, as recommended by President Taft, is one of the most striking features of the Payne bill. It provides a tax on direct inheritances as follows: On inheritances of from $10,000 to $100,000, one per cent.; $100,000 to $500,000, two per cent., and over $500,000, three per cent. Collateral relatives and strangers receiving inheritances will pay five per cent. on all amounts over $500. It is practically the New York state law.

Treasury Certificates.

The bill also authorizes the issue of treasury certificates to the amount of $250,000,000 to run for one year.

Coffee is left on the free list.

No change is made in the tax on beer.

A tax of eight cents a pound is levied on tea coming from the country where it is produced, and nine cents on tea coming from other countries. Tea is on the free list in the Dingley law.

Wood pulp, coming from any country that does not have an export duty on certain forest products, is to be admitted free.

Printing paper duty is reduced 66 2-3, and fifty per cent. according to value.

The tariff on lumber is reduced fifty per cent. and the same is true of steel rails, and some other steel products.

Coal is placed on a reciprocal basis, and so are agricultural implements. They will be received free from any country that admits free similar articles from this country.

Wool, of the first and second class, is unchanged. The same is true of oil. A reduction of five cents per 100 pounds is made in refined sugar.

Iron ore is placed on the free list.

Hides are free, and shoes reduced forty per cent.

The rates are increased on window glass of large size, and reduced on small sizes.

Increase on Luxuries.

The greater part of the increases have been placed on luxuries and cuts have been made where it was thought they would increase the revenue to the best advantage.

In introducing the bill in the house, Chairman Payne presented a statement prepared by his committee, giving an exhaustive explanation and analysis of the provisions of the measure which was, in part, as follows:

"The new tariff bill is a minimum and maximum tariff bill. The minimum rates of duty are contained in the first section and the free list for the minimum rates is in the second section of the bill. The third section contains the maximum rates, which are generally equal to the minimum rates, and twenty per cent. in addition thereto, and the articles on the free list, in the transfer to the third section, bear a duty of twenty per centum ad valorem as a maximum rate.

"The maximum rate does not go into effect in any event until sixty days after the passage of the act. By the fourth section, the minimum rates are applied to all goods imported from any country which gives the United States as good terms by way of tariff as that given to any other nation, and the maximum rates are applied to those countries which discriminate against the trade of the United States or fail to give the United States tariff rates as favorable as those given any other nation. This section is self-acting, making it the duty of the executive to collect the duties, whether minimum or maximum, in accordance with the terms of the bill, leaving it open to the courts to decide upon the legality of the action.

Question of Revenue.

"One problem that confronted the committee was the question of revenue. The business of all commercial nations has been depressed for nearly two years, and this has affected our commerce and greatly reduced our revenues, so that we have a large deficit, but the revenues under the present law are improving from month to month, as business conditions are becoming better.

"The last normal year of imports was the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906; 1907 was an unusually prosperous year, and the revenues from customs exceeded those of 1906 by $32,000,000. The committee have therefore taken the year 1906 as the basis to form their estimate of the revenue producing qualities of the new bill. Should the next fiscal year prove prosperous, and the normal conditions of 1906 return, on account of the large increase in population, the revenues for 1910 would show a considerable increase over the estimates of the committee.

"With a return to anything like normal conditions during the next fiscal year, it is safe to predict that the deficit would be entirely wiped out, but in case it is not, the bill provides for the issue of Panama canal bonds to reimburse the treasury for the $40,000,000 paid out in the original purchase of the canal. This would more than make up any probable deficiency.

Emergency Issue.

"There is also reenacted the provision for the issue of certificates to run one year to replenish the treasury raising the amount from $100,000,000 to $250,000,000, the amount sufficient to provide at any time against two or three years of depressed business conditions.

"The bill adds a new paragraph to the customs administrative act, providing that the actual market value or wholesale price, as defined by law, of any imported merchandise which is consigned for sale in the United States, or which is not actually sold and freely offered for sale in usual wholesale quantities in the open market of the country of exportation to all purchasers, shall not in any case be appraised at less than the wholesale price at which such or similar imported merchandise is actually sold and freely offered for sale in usual wholesale quantities in the United States in the open market to all purchasers, due allowance by deduction being made for estimated duties thereon, cost of transportation, insurance and other necessary expenses from the place of shipment to the place of delivery and a reasonable commission not exceeding ten per centum, if any of the same has been paid.

Reciprocity Measure.

"The bill provides for reciprocal free trade with the Philippine islands on all articles, but limiting the sugar to be imported free of duty to 300,000 tons; wrapped tobacco to 300,000 pounds and 3,000,000 pounds of filler tobacco, and 150,000,000 cigars in any one fiscal year. The excess of sugar, tobacco and cigars to pay full tariff rates.

"A section is added, applying the same rules to patents obtained in the United States by aliens that are adopted by the country of which these aliens are citizens in respects to patents issued there to citizens of the United States. This will either compel foreigners obtaining patents in the United States to build factories and manufacture here for our trade, or eventually forfeit the right to their patents.

"A section is inserted, preserving the Cuban reciprocity provisions of the present law.

"Provision is made to terminate the various commercial agreements with foreign countries, according to the terms of said agreements, by notice, and in the meantime keeping faith in those agreements. The provisions applying the minimum and maximum rates, will take the place of these sections.

Inheritance Tax.

"The bill provides for a tax on transfers of property, both real and personal, by inheritance or succession, and by will. It is believed that this provision, when in full operation, will bring in a revenue of $20,000,000, although no accurate estimates can be made.

"The internal tax on cigarets is increased, those weighing over three pounds per thousand from three dollars to $3.60, and those weighing less from one dollar to $1.50.

"The bill contains a carefully prepared section, extending the privileges of drawback on material imported on which tariff has been paid, and the products of which are manufactured in this country when exported.

"It is provided that the bill shall go into effect the day following its enactment.

"The committee has transferred some articles from the free list to the dutiable, and have increased duties on others, for the sole purpose of increasing the revenue. Most of these articles on which duties have been increased are luxuries."

The statement then gives the various increases, which include:

Perfumeries and toilet articles from fifty to sixty per cent. ad valorem.

FARMS TURNED INTO PROSPECTORS' CAMPS

Beach Grove Is the Scene of Great Excitement.

FARMERS DIGGING IN THEIR FIELDS

Washing Out Samples of Underlying Gravel in Search of Pay Dirt—Outside Prospectors Unable To Lease an Acre of Ground—First Discoverer of Gold in Stark County.

Massillon, O., March 18.—Farms within a radius of two miles of Beach Grove, where the announcement of the discovery of gold bearing gravel in paying quantities was made Monday, have been turned into miniature prospecting camps.

Farmers are digging into their fields, and washing out samples of the underlying gravel in search of pay dirt. Citizens of Beach Grove, West Brookfield and East Greenville, and even parties from Massillon and Canton, equipped with shovels and wash basins, are prospecting the banks of all streams in search of the golden sand.

Outside prospectors, who hurried to the scene are unable to lease an acre of land. Owners who had not already leased to the Massillon company, which was quickly organized before the announcement of the find was made, are holding tight.

Claim to the first discovery of Stark county gold is made by George Kittinger, farmer, north of Beach Grove. Kittinger says he first discovered gold sand eighteen years ago when digging a well. Alexander Klingelsmith made a similar find a few years later. Each made but a perfunctory investigation, no believing the gold to be in paying quantities.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY MARKED FOR DEATH

Oscar Lawlor Receives Letters from Organization.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 18.—Because he aided in the prosecution of three men accused of violating the neutrality laws by fomenting a Mexican revolution, Oscar Lawlor, United States district attorney here, has been marked for death by an organization called "A. B. of L." He has received two threatening letters postmarked Chicago and dated March 7. One says:

"We sent you one note to look out, for we are after you. Here's the second, and maybe the last. We are determined to rid America of all such as you. Hell is the only place for your kind. We have sent two avengers after you and they will do away with your carcass as Diaz does with the Mexican patriots."

"P. S.—Your black soul will go before you are a year older. We have sworn it."

Detroit, Mich., March 18.—A dashing brunette, using the name of Miss Kitty Brown, but whom the police say is Mrs. Myrtle Robland, who after being sought out by George Cupp, an Ohio farmer, through the aid of a matrimonial agency, left him suddenly after he had given her his roll of $1,300, was arrested here Wednesday. The police say she has admitted her identity, but that she claims she intended to return to Flint, where she met Cupp, and marry him.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF DEPARTED SISTER

Resolutions on the Death of Mrs. Mary Sutton.

Scioto Valley Rebekah lodge, of Green Camp, has adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas a loving Father has deemed it best to call to rest our beloved sister, Mary Sutton, therefore, be it,

Resolved, That in the death of Sister Sutton, Scioto Valley Rebekah lodge fully appreciates the loss of one of its oldest and most respected members. Much could be said of her value in the home circle, where she was ever a true, loving wife, a tender and affectionate mother, and of her value as a friend and counselor. But amid the gloom we look to Him who doeth all things well and our hearts are cheered by the thoughts of the grand reunion beyond the tomb, where partings are unknown, and all tears are wiped from our eyes by the One who can comfort "even as a mother comforteth her children."

Resolved, That we extend to the family of our sister, our deepest sympathy in this their time of sadness,

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of the resolutions be sent to the family, to the county papers for publication, and be recorded on the minutes of the lodge.

OBITUARIES.

Miss May Wynn, daughter of Rev. John W. and Lattie V. Wynn was born on the Wynn farm in Green Camp township, Marion county, May 5, 1885, and departed this life at 9 o'clock March 9, 1909. In early childhood, May's mother preceded her. She then came to live with her grandparents, Isaac and Louisa Jane Wynn, where she has continued to reside, being a great comfort to them in their declining years. Since May could talk she has said her prayers She was loyal and devoted to the Sunday-school and faithfully attended for fourteen years, without missing a Sunday, only when prevented by sickness. For such attendance she received the "Robert Rakes" Sunday-school diploma When a child she became interested in mission work. In her connection with the mission society we found her word as good as bonds, responding nobly to every call for help. She was a member of the W. C. T. U., ever ready by her prayers and money to do with her might, what she could for its support. April 22, 1908, she graduated from the Green Camp High school. She became a member of Scioto Valley Rebekah Lodge, No. 597, of Green Camp, August 30, 1904. She was assigned to a leading position which she has ever held. We have lost a valued member, a charitable sister, a Christian character and a true friend. When taken with sickness she was operating at the Green Camp telephone exchange. During all her suffering and afflictions she was patient and bore it all without a murmur. She spent the last six hours of her life bidding her friends good-by, inviting all to come and see her in heaven. She called for the hymn "Down at the Cross" which was sung. The front door of the residence was opened and the towns people passed in and she called them by name and bid them all good-by. The funeral service was held at the Green Camp Free Baptist church, in charge of Rev. S. Fulton, assisted by Rev. Levi Davis, Rev. Fenton Fish, Rev. Mr. Wiseley. The discourse was delivered by Rev. F. A. Twining. The remains were laid to rest in the Green Camp cemetery.

NOTHING TO FEAR FROM AEROPLANES

Says Hudson Maxim Before New York Aeronautic Club.

New York, March 18.—While unprotected inland towns have something to fear from the use of aerial war fleets, flying machines will never be able to work wide destruction in warfare, according to a statement of Hudson Maxim before the Aeronautic club of this city.

"Flying machines will never be able to work wide destruction by dropping explosives from the air," said Mr. Maxim. "Even large quantities of high explosives dropped from an aerial fleet upon battleships, on the coast fortifications and in the streets of cities would not be widely destructive. In order to do much damage, dynamite requires confining. The great field for operations with high explosives carried in air warships will be in raiding. They may be thus used for attacks on unprotected cities and towns, for the destruction of railroads, the blowing up of arsenals, public stores and so forth."

CONDUCTOR IS OUT OF TICKETS

And Charges Full Fare, Hence a Test Suit.

Youngstown, O., March 18.—Appeal of a suit brought by S. S. Conroy against the Mahoning Valley Railway company for one dollar, to test the law of legal tender where money is presented to conductors for tickets when they have none and attempt to collect a straight five cent fare, is being heard by Circuit Judge U. L. Marvin of Akron.

Conroy boarded a car on a line where twenty-seven tickets for one dollar were sold. He tendered one dollar for tickets. The conductor said he had no tickets, and took out a five cent fare.

Conroy refused to accept the ninety-five cents and left the change on the seat of the car. In common pleas court he secured a verdict against the company.

FATHER OF BRIDE GIVES HIS CONSENT

Then It Is Discovered That Bridegroom Is Missing.

San Francisco, March 18.—With the announcement today that John A. Emery, archdeacon of the California Episcopal diocese, had at last given his reluctant consent to the marriage of his daughter, Gladys, to Gungior Aoki, who claims to be a son of the late Japanese general of Russian war fame, appeared the startling development that the young bridegroom-to-be is missing. Emery has all along strenuously opposed the match, particularly when it was reported from the Japanese colony that Aoki's claim to sonship was not believed. Aoki is believed to have satisfied the Emery family as to his parentage and thereby won their consent. His disappearance has caused much discussion.

GET TRACE OF KIDNAPED LAD

Man Suspected of Sharon Crime Caught at Warren.

RIG AND BOY'S CAP RECOVERED

Attorney Whitla Will Pay $10,000 Demanded by Abductors For Safe Return of His Eight-Year-Old Son, Who Was Spirited Away From School by Stranger—Mother Receives Note Hinting at Death If Money Is Not Forthcoming.

Sharon, Pa., March 19.—Attorney James P. Whitla has decided to comply with the demands made by the abductors of his eight-year-old son, William Whitla, who was spirited away from school here by an unknown man, furnishing a mystery which the detectives of the country are being asked to solve, and has caused the required notice to be inserted in the Youngstown, Pittsburg, Cleveland and Indianapolis newspapers.

Accompanying the demand for $10,000 ransom is a covert threat that the boy will be killed unless the money is forthcoming.

Hundreds of telegrams and telephone messages have been sent to the police of various cities asking their assistance in the search for the boy and his abductors. The first fruit of these came when Chief of Police Crain of this city received word that the rig in which the lad was taken away had been recovered at Warren, O., with the child's hat on the buggy seat. All the zeal of police and detectives is now being centered at the region lying about Warren, and those in charge of the chase think the kidnaper has but a slender chance of escape.

Took Lad From School.

A stranger drove up to the East Ward schoolhouse, where young Whitla is a pupil, and told the janitor, Wesley Sloss, the lad was wanted at once at his father's office. Sloss conveyed the message to Mrs. Anna Lewis, the boy's teacher, who dismissed the child. As she was helping him put on his overcoat she remarked, half jokingly, "I hope that man does not kidnap Willie."

When Sloss appeared with the boy the stranger smiled and helped him to the seat beside him. He then drove off in the direction of Mr. Whitla's office. Several persons say a confederate joined the kidnaper before he had left town.

Later in the day a letter directed to the mother was delivered at the house by a mail carrier. Mrs. Whitla at once recognized the handwriting on the envelope as that of her son. Opening it, she found the following communication written in a strange hand:

"We have your boy and will return him for $10,000. Will see your advertisement in the papers. Insert in Indianapolis News, Cleveland Press, Pittsburg Dispatch, Youngstown Vindicator: 'A. A.—Will do as requested. J. P. W.' Dead boys are not desirable."

Suspect Arrested at Warren.

Warren, O., March 19.—A man said to answer the description of the one wanted at Sharon, Pa., on a charge of kidnaping the Whitla boy, was arrested here. The janitor of the Sharon school will arrive here today to see if he can identify him.

LOUISVILLE'S UNION STATION IS BURNED

Two Men Seriously Injured While Escaping From Flames.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—By the destruction here at a loss of $400,000 of the Union depot, the local terminal for five of the country's chief railroads, Louisville, will probably benefit by a new Union station. This was decided by the Commercial club half an hour after the building at Seventh street and the Ohio river was a mass of smoking embers and debris.

Crossed wires in the attic of the big structure, which was erected by the Illinois Central in 1890, are charged with the responsibility for the blaze which has made an empty shell of the depot before the entire fire department of the city had arrived. Chief Clerk W. G. Roach and Superintendent Egan of the Illinois Central fell through a skylight in an effort to escape and were badly injured. All other occupants escaped unhurt

A railroad coach is being used as a ticket office. The rescue of a woman telephone operator from the fifth story by firemen and the great height to which the flames rose made the fire unusually spectacular.

Cuban Insurgents Surrender.

Havana, March 19.—Sergeant Cortes, leader of the insurrectionists, and his whole band surrendered to the civil authorities of Remedios, Santa Clara province.

EACH TO LOOK AFTER HIS OWN

Congressmen Consider Home Interests In Revision.

PARTY LINES ARE CAST ASIDE

Minority Contends That Reduction In Wool Schedules Is Not Sufficient to Produce Revenue—Some Democrats Will Unite With Northern Republicans to Fight Free Lumber—House Expected to Take Up Payne Bill Before Week's End.

Washington, March 19.—It is expected that with few exceptions, each member of the house will fight for the interests of his home district when the Payne tariff bill is brought up for consideration, which will probably be by the end of the present week. The belief that party lines will be thrown to the winds during the consideration of the tariff measure was strengthened by the action of Representative Broussard of Louisiana, who withdrew from the meeting of the minority members of the committee on ways and means because he differed with their views on the tariff.

Unless a "gag" rule for the prevention of unlimited amendment under the five-minute rule is brought in, the minority members of the ways and means committee will not report a separate bill. Their report will be drafted by Minority Leader Clark, and will severely criticise the wool schedule in the new bill. It is contended by the Democrats that it has not been cut sufficiently to place it on a revenue basis. There probably will be numerous amendments offered, and heated discussions affecting them are anticipated.

What the Democrats Favor.

The inheritance tax, Philippine free trade, internal revenue and maximum and minimum features of the new bill are indorsed by the minority leaders, and there has been much favorable comment upon the measure by Democratic congressmen. Champ Clark declared that he had not had sufficient time to look into its provisions to enable him to comment upon them. It is understood that the minority leaders favor the removal of the restrictions on the quantity of sugar and tobacco that can be admitted from the Philippines free of duty. On the other hand, several southern Democrats are endeavoring to have the free trade provision amended so as to exclude rice, their contention being that rice could be sent from the Philippines to the United States markets and sold for 2 cents a pound if admitted free from the islands. This they say, would ruin the rice industry in this country.

Want Lumber Duty Retained.

A number of Democrats will join with some Republicans in favoring the continuation of the duty assessed by the Dingley bill upon lumber. The fight for free lumber will be headed by Champ Clark, it is understood. He has frequently expressed himself in bitter terms regarding the lumber situation in this country. During the tariff hearings he arraigned the lumber magnates and delved deep into the intricacies of stumpage and railroad land grants. It is not thought there will be any serious opposition to the tariff placed on tea.

The ways and means committee in its report estimates that the entire revenues to the government for the fiscal year 1910, providing the Payne bill is in operation, will be $862,065,885. As the total amount for which revenue will be required for 1910 is estimated at $872,221,701, it is claimed that the deficit for 1910 will be about $10,000,000.

TACKLE TARIFF TODAY

Senate Finance Committee Will Hold Daily Sessions.

Washington, March 19.—Beginning today the senate finance committee will hold daily sessions for the consideration of the Payne tariff bill, and a variety of expert work, which will be necessary for a consideration of the tariff schedules, will be begun at once. The four Republican vacancies on the committee will be filled by the appointment of Senators Lodge, Cullom, Flint and Smoot.

PASS CENSUS BILL

Civil Service Provisions Restored by House of Representatives.

Washington, March 19. — The first piece of legislation to be enacted by the house during the special session was the bill providing for the taking of the thirteenth census, which was passed. In its present form the measure gives to the civil service commission jurisdiction over appointments, and provides for the printing of the reports by the government printing office.

As enacted at the last session the bill stripped the civil service commission of such authority, and there was a provision allowing some of the printing to be done by private firms, because of which President Roosevelt vetoed it. A further amendment was made whereby appointments are to be apportioned pro rata among the states.

ANOTHER MOVE TO BUILD INTERURBAN

Line Proposed To Extend from Marion to Mt. Vernon.

Another opportunity is offered residents of this section and Morrow county to build an electric road. The route now proposed is to run from Marion through Mt. Gilead, Chesterville and Fredericktown to Mt Vernon

Frank Ohl representing certain Chicago and Toledo capitalists, met with the citizens of Chesterville in that place Tuesday evening and submitted a proposition. About 150 were present The idea is for that section to raise $6,000 a mile for a distance of seven miles, the amount not to be paid in until the road is completed. The desire is to have this community declare itself before steps are taken elsewhere

Another citizens' meeting will be held in Chesterville on Saturday evening when the proposition submitted will be acted upon

The route suggested by Mr Ohl seems most practicable, and is the one favored by the Business Men's league of Mt. Gilead. It is to be hoped that this venture will be successful —Mt. Gilead Sentinel aft Tells Congress Why It Is Assembled.

IS MESSAGE TO THE POINT

EVISION OF THE TARIFF WANTED

e Conditions Are Such That It Is Necessary.

e Country Demands It, the Party Platform Upon Which He Is Elected Pledges It and He Wants It—It Is Up to Congress To Get Down o Work and Makes the Changes Quickly

Washington March 16 —President Taft sent his special message on tariff to congress today. In full reads as follows:

To the senate and house of representatives

I have convened the congress in extra session, in order to enable o give immediate consideration to revision of the Dingley tariff act. ditions affecting production, nufacture and business generally e so changed in the last twelve rs as to require a readjustment revision of the import duties imed by that act.

More than this, the present tariff , with the other forces of governm revenue, does not furnish inue enough to pay the authorized penditures. By July 1, next, the ess of expenses over receipts for current fiscal year will equal 0,000,000

The successful party in the last ction is pledged to a revision of tariff The country and the busis community, especially, expect The prospect of a change in the s of import duties always causes uspension or halt in business, bese of the uncertainty as to the nges to be made and their effect is, therefore, of the highest imtance that the new bill should be eed upon and passed with as ch speed as possible consistent h its due and thorough considera-

For these reasons, I have deemed present to be an extraordinary asion, within the meaning of the stitution, justifying and requiring calling of an extra session

In my inaugural address, I ted in a summary way the prinles upon which, in my judgment, revision of the tariff should prod and indicated at least one new rce of revenue that might be ught resorted to, in order to id a future deficit. It is not essary for me to repeat what I n said

I venture to suggest that the vital ness interests in this country re re that the attention of the conss in this session be chiefly deed to the consideration of the new ff bill and that the less time en to other subjects of legislation this session, the better for the ntry

"W. H. Taft."

Message Approved.

Washington, March 16.—President ft's first message to congress was t to the senate immediately after assembly today

Its reading was received with manifest expressions of approval from publican senators, who not only ed its brevity, but also its expresn of a desire that the business of special session should be confined much as possible to the considern of the revision of the tariff

The message was referred to the committee on finance

On motion of Senator Hale it was en agreed that when the senate adjourn today it will be to meet on nday

Among several petitions that were ceived was one from the New mpshire legislature, in opposition the proposition for a federal inheritance tax claiming that that source of revenue should be reserved to the tes. On motion of Senator Frye, ip to the senate went into executive session

Prolonged applause greeted Secretary Taft when he entered the house with the message. During its reading it was listened with the greatest attention and at its close there was a whirlwind of handclapping.

The first business of the house today was the report of the committee appointed to await on the president Representative Olmstead, Republican of Penns lvania announced that the committee had performed that agreeable duty and that the president desired him to congratulate the membership on their prompt organization The message was then read.

SHOULD ALWAYS TAKE MAN ALONG

Minister Should Never Make Pastoral Calls Alone.

Chicago, March 16 —That a young society bud just emerging into a wicked world is not half so much in need of a chaperon as is a staid aged and worldly-wise minister is the declaration made by Rev W E Barton before the Presbyterian ministers conference Monday He declared that a minister should never make a ministerial call without a cicerone along, that he should never be left alone in his studio for an instant with the door unlocked, nor should he ever be seen coming or going from any place where he would be ashamed to be seen by his wife or the board of elders He declared that ministers are subject to more temptation than any other class of men and that their conduct must be so circumspect as to render temptation impossible.

A HARD BLOW AT THE UNIONS

Struck by the Manitoba Court of Appeals.

AFFIRMS DECISION OF LOWER COURT

In What Is Known as Master Plumbers' Case.

Lower Court Enjoins Picketing and Grants Damages Against the Union, Assessing Each Member Personally and Providing That Each Man's Property Could Be Attached To Satisfy Judgment.

Winnipeg, Man., March 16 —Unions all over western Canada are aroused today over the decision of the Manitoba court of appeals, which affirmed the decision of the lower court in what is known as the "Master Plumbers Case," striking a hard blow at the whole union organization of the Dominion.

The master plumbers a year ago sued the plumbers' union for $25,000 damages and asked that each individual member of the union be also assessed The lower court issued an injunction restraining the union from picketing, granted the damages against the union and assessed each individual member of the union personally, providing that each man's property could be attached to satisfy judgment. The court of appeals yesterday made this injunction permanent

It is expected this decision will encourage employers all over Canada to file similar suits in case of strikes.

FIGHT BATTLE WITH ROBBERS

Three Members of Household Are Wounded.

CONDITION OF ONE CRITICAL

Hit Nine Times by Bullets of the Robbers.

While the Frank Schemeitz Family Is at the Supper Table, the Home Is Invaded by Three Men Wearing Masks—Head of the House Draws a Revolver and the Battle Is On. The Robbers Escape.

Salineville, O., March 16 —Three robbers, masked with comic false faces held up the family of Frank Schemeitz while at the supper table last night and then started a search through the house for the pay envelopes drawn by Schemeitz and his brother John from the Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company.

While two of the men were searching, Frank drew a revolver and opened fire on the robbers. The three returned the shots each concentrating his fire upon one of the persons at the table.

Mrs Katherine Schemeitz, wife of Frank was shot three times, the bullets striking in such a manner as to produce nine wounds. Her condition is critical.

Frank Schemeitz was hit twice.

John Schemeitz was shot twice in the face.

As the men ran from the house, they threw off their masks. These were found by Marshal Norris, and held as the only clue to the identity of the men.

Felix Schemeitz, son of Frank, ran one and a half miles to Salineville where he gave the alarm Marchal Norris and Dr H. M. Calvin hurried to the scene.

Within half an hour more than seventy-five men had joined the marshal in the search. The hunt was kept up until long past midnight but no trace of the trio was found

Schemeitz declares he does not know any of the men

FORMAL PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY ENTERED

The Criminal Libel Suits of the Government.

New York, March 16 —Formal pleas of not guilty were entered, Monday, by the Press Publishing company—the New York World—and Caleb M VanHamm, managing editor of the World, in the government's suits for criminal libel, for the publication of alleged libelous matter in connection with the purchase of the Panama canal site.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Van Hamm, asked Judge Holt for a week's time in which to prepare a demurrer against the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that the alleged libelous matter was not published in federal territory

The government alleges that the publication took place at the West Point military academy and in the New York postoffice building, both government properties The request was granted.

No date for the trial will be set until after the argument on the demurrer.

HEADLESS BODY OF WOMAN IS FOUND

In a Coal Car at Allentown, in Pennsylvania.

Perth Amboy, N J., March 16.—The local police are working with the police of the various points along the line of the Lehigh Valley system to solve a mysterious murder reported from Allentown, Pennsylvania.

While a coal car, which had been emptied here, was on a siding in the Pennsylvania town, boys playing about it discovered the headless body of a woman in it. Before they could give the alarm, the train had moved on and despite their best efforts, Chief Detective Hains and his men of the railroad, have up to now been unable to locate it. In proof of their story, the boys gave Hains a bloodstained jacket they took from the car. It bore a New York maker's name and the police believe the victim was killed in the local yards and her body hidden in the car.

JOSEPH G. CANNON, SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

HE MAY START A REVOLUTION

Castro Would Like To Recover the Control

OF GOVERNMENT OF VENEZUELA

And Regain Property He Left Behind Him.

Former President Will Leave Germany Latter Part of This Month and Go to Colombia—Will Send His Wife into Venezuela—If Government Will Give Up Property, Revolution May Be Averted.

Berlin, March 15 —Castro, the exile, would like to regain control of the government of Venezuela, but above all would like to regain possession of the property he carelessly left lying around in that country when he went away on the trip which cost him his dictatorship

The Magdeburgische Zeitung today says that when Castro leaves Germany about the end of March he will go to Columbia and send his wife over into Venezuela to see if his successor is willing to let loose of the confiscated property If Gomez is willing, Castro will probably let the country save itself. If not, Castro, if he sees a chance to save both the property and the country will start a revolution of his own.

CARROLL COUNTY TREASURER SHORT

Apparently from $4,000 to $7,000 to the Bad.

Canton, O., March 15 - A sensation in political circles in Carroll and Stark counties developed when inspectors named by the probate court reported a shortage in the accounts of L W Cooper, county treasurer of Carroll county, of between $4,000 and $7,000.

Cooper's relatives at first agreed to make up the shortage, but on learning of the total declined to come to his aid, and Cooper's bondsmen and friends have been called into conference. Irregularities in payments are alleged, checks, one for $3,000 and another for $1,000, being among the number questioned.

Stephenson Sworn In.

Washington, March 15.—Senator La Follette escorted Senator Isaac Stephenson to the vice president's desk, this morning, and the latter took the oath to succeed himself as senator from Wisconsin.

CLOSE CALL FOR SPEAKER CANNON

Wins Out for Speakership by Narrow Margin.

HE HAS THIRTEEN VOTES TO GOOD

Escorted to Chair by Minority Leader Clark.

Presented by Clark as the Second Man in the History of the Land Who Is Elected for Four Terms as Speaker of the House—Address by Cannon Precedes Taking of Oath—Other Officers Elected.

Washington, March 15.—By a majority of thirteen votes, Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois was today reelected speaker of the house of representatives, twelve Republican insurgents voting against him.

The vote was: Cannon, 204; Clark, Missouri, minority leader, 166, Cooper, Wisconsin, 8; Norris, Nebraska, 2; Esch, Wisconsin, 1; and ex-Representative Hepburn of Iowa, 1

The insurgents with their votes were as follows: Hipshaw, Nebraska, for Norris, Hubbard, Iowa, for Cooper, Cary, Wisconsin, for Cooper; Cooper, Wisconsin, for Norris; Poindexter, Washington, for Cooper, Davis, Minnesota, for Cooper; Kopp, Wisconsin, for Esch, Lenroot, Wisconsin for Cooper; Lindbergh, Minnesota, for Hepburn, Morse, Wisconsin, for Cooper; Murdock, Kansas, for Cooper, Nelson, Wisconsin, for Cooper.

The Absentees.

The absentees were, Clark of Florida, Russell of Texas; Legare of South Carolina, and Sheppard of Texas—all Democrats. In addition neither Minority Leader Clark, Cannon nor Esch voted

A committee composed of Representative Campbell, Republican, of Kansas, and Representative Bartlett, of Georgia, and Clark, of Missouri, both Democrats, was appointed to escort the speaker to his desk. When Speaker Cannon entered the hall, on the arm of Minority Leader Clark, there was a big demonstration on the Republican side

Clark called the house to order and presented the speaker, as the second man in the history of the United States who had been elected as speaker of the house of representatives for four terms. Speaker Cannon, before taking the oath, made his address to the house. He read it from a typewritten sheet

Address of Cannon.

"Gentlemen of the house of representatives," he said, "the election to the high office of speaker, which I now have for the fourth time, by virtue of your confidence and judgment, is a compliment, the honor of which I do not underestimate and of which I am not lacking in personal appreciation.

"We have before us a most important difficult session of congress. The adjustment of the national revenues has been, since the foundation of the government, a fundamental question, yielding to none other in importance. Even in the civil war, the question of adequate revenue marched side by side with the valor of our armies and the patriotism of our people. And in time of peace, even disordered finances are a prolific source of national ills, not so acute as those of war, but yet fruitful of calamity for the general interest and suffering for the individual.

"These considerations should animate us to high devotion to the duty before us. We must subordinate personal feelings to the general good, trusting to the considerate judgment of the people for approval of our work when it shall have been completed."

Takes the Oath.

"I am now ready for the oath," said the speaker, and Representative Bingham, Republican, Pennsylvania, the oldest member of the house in point of service, stood before the speaker's desk and read the oath.

The speaker stood with uplifted hand and swore to administer the duties of his office according to the constitution.

The members of the house were then sworn in. They gathered in front of the speaker's desk, the delegations from several states at one time, and took the oath of office.

When the ceremony of the swearing had been concluded, Representative Currier presented a list of candidates for positions, as officers of the house, approved by the Republican caucus. The list included: For clerk, Alexander McDowell, of Pennsylvania; sergeant-at-arms, Henry Casson, of Minnesota; postmaster, D. A. Langham, of Minnesota; doorkeeper, Frank B. Lyon, of New York, and chaplain, Rev. Henry N. Couden, of Michigan. All these men are now in office. The list was elected

A WOMAN SEIZED BY HEART FAILURE

During the Delivery of Bryan's "The Prince of Peace."

Ann Arbor, Michigan., March 15. —William Jennings Bryan today expressed the deepest regret over the death last night during the delivery of his lecture, "The Prince of Peace," of Mrs. C. L. Grimes, fifty-seven years old, who was seized by heart failure just as the commoner was paying his respects to the Darwinian theory. Two other women fainted as a result of the closeness of the hall, which was packed with Michigan university students and townspeople.

A WOMAN PROVES TRUTH OF WORDS

Spoken by Pastor on Subject of Uncertainties of Life.

Youngstown, O., March 15 —"No one of you can tell at what hour death will come," said the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Poland, near here, in opening his sermon.

Hardly had he spoken the words when Mrs. Matilda Williams fell from her seat dead. Death is said to have been caused by heart trouble.

OLD BLIND HORSE RESTORED TO SIGHT

Findlay, O., March 15.— An old blind horse that has been driven in a cab line here for many years, was restored to sight Sunday and appeared as kittenish as a colt, scaring at street cars, automobiles and the like. Previously nothing would scare the animal. No explanation of the mystery is offered.

EXCHANGE OF COMPLIMENTS

Minority Leader Clark Is Full of Ambition,

ACCORDING TO SPEAKER CANNON

He Would Be the Czar of the Lower House.

The Minority Leader, on the Other Hand, When Informed of the Statement of the Speaker, Is of the Opinion That the Latter Is in the Early Stages of Paresis and That Disease Is Gaining Ground.

Washington, March 16 —Speaker Cannon and Representative Champ Clark, leader of the minority in the house, paid their respects to each other at the White House today. According to the speaker, Clark is a would-be czar, and Clark is of the opinion that "Uncle Joe" is getting paresis

The speaker and his stalwart opponent met at the White House by chance. "Uncle Joe" came in at 10 o'clock, and spent nearly three-quarters of an hour in the president's office, and Clark came in at 10:30 with the other members of the committee, appointed to notify the president that congress was in session. "Uncle Joe" was the first one to emerge from the president's office.

"How did yesterday's proceedings suit you, Mr Speaker?"

The "Iron Duke of American Politics" struck a characteristic attitude, and began waving his "terrible left."

Rules Improved.

"The amendments have improved the rules," Cannon exclaimed, shaking his fist in his questioner's face "The house is verile, because it can operate by the will of the majority. This talk about the speaker being a czar is tommyrot What they wanted and tried to do was to create a committee of fifteen czars, dominated by Champ Clark and La Follette—and La Follette is a fake"

The speaker thereupon abruptly turned on his heel and dashed out of the building

Champ Clark made his exit from the president's office a few minutes later, and did not look at all happy. He was asked the same question that had brought forth the vigorous language from the speaker.

"I don't think that the amendments improved the rules to any extent," Clark replied. "It shows, though, that the gang can be beaten once in a while."

"'Uncle Joe' said that you wanted to be a czar with your committee of fifteen," Mr. Clark was informed.

"I'm afraid 'Uncle Joe' is getting paresis," exclaimed Clark, as he climbed into the taxicab that had brought the committee to the White House.

EAST LIVERPOOL MAYOR WINS OUT

Laws Will Not Be Enforced in Spots, He Says.

East Liverpool, O., March 16.—Mayor S W. Crawford has won the fight with the Ministerial association, and there will be no arrests for working on Sunday The mayor this morning said:

"If the Ministerial association wants this law to apply only to individuals and in spots, and will not protect street railway employes from working seven days in succession, thus preventing them from having an opportunity to rest, then I declare the stand of the association is wrong and not in keeping with the letter and spirit of the statutes. If I am to enforce the laws as I find them I shall do so with partiality to none and without sentiment I will not close up the poor widow's shop and allow the influential storekeeper to run wide open."

NEW CONGRESS MEETS TODAY

Both the Houses Assemble To Talk Tariff

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE READY

Uncle Joe Cannon Reelected as House Speaker

Representative Payne Is in the Spotlight as the Author of the New Measure—The Proceedings in the House Today Consisted Mainly of Organization—Senate Sessions, at Present, Not Important

Washington March 15—At noon today Clerk McDowell dropped the speaker's gavel on the desk and the house of representatives came to order in the extra session of the Sixty first congress called by proclamation from President Taft

The proceedings in the house today consisted mainly of organization The senate is a continuous body and never dies but when the house adjourned before the inauguration it passed out of existence It was necessary therefore to attend today to such details as the swearing in of the members the election of a speaker and other officials the assignments of members to committees and the drawing for seats

Although the president's proclamation issued on March 6 did not state the reason for the extra session his message prepared for transmission to the two houses at the beginning of the session calls upon them to deliberate over the advisability of preparing and passing a new tariff law for the United States In many previous utterances notably in his inaugural address—President Taft has made known his conviction that the Republican members controlling the two houses should carry out the provision of the Chicago platform pledging the party to a tariff law affording protection to the industries of the nation equal to the difference between the cost of production abroad and the cost of production here For months the ways and means committee of the old house most of whose members were reelected were busy with the preparation of a bill declared to embody that idea

Speaker Cannon Reelected

Probably first in interest and importance among the events of today in the two houses was the reelection of Speaker Cannon The old Republican war horse has been too strong for the house insurgents and his face wore a little smile of triumph as he ascended the rostrum after the announcement by the clerk of the vote reelecting him and thanked the members for the honor In accordance with ancient custom the oath of office was administered to the speaker by the father of the house That honor now belongs to General H H Bingham who today began his thirtieth year of continuous service in the house

Speaker Cannon had to share the honor of the most conspicuous place in the attention of the crowded galleries today with Representative Sereno E Payne chairman of the committee on ways and means Mr Payne is the father of the new tariff bill and its unofficial title is the Payne bill

The committee hearings on the proposed new bill which is now ready for the consideration of congress filled six weeks and were according to Bourke Cockran one of the Democratic members of the committee the most extensive and the fullest that were ever held for the purpose of revising the tariff More than 00 men interested in the revision of the tariff appeared before the committee They embraced importers and exporters manufacturers farmers and others Included in their interests were an exceedingly wide variety of business es Government experts and other statisticians were also called upon to furnish information to the committee Probably the most interesting witness was Mr Carnegie who had declared in a magazine article his belief that the iron and steel industry of America no longer needed protection Judge Gary chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation declared that the independent manufacturers needed high duties to protect them against monopoly of the trade Among the other trades represented at the hearing were the lumber wool paper sugar and fruit industries In practically every case arguments for and against the continuance of high protective duties were advanced playing on the members of the committee the burden of decision The result of their deliberations has been guarded with great care Despite forecasts of the content of the bill alleged to be authoritative few besides its authors know which schedules are to remain unchanged which are to be advanced and which are to be lowered

Senate Also In Session.

The senate also convened today but for some time its sessions will not be as important as those of the house According to the constitution the tariff bill which is the end and aim of the extra session must originate in the house and be passed by that body before it goes to the senate for approval After it reaches the senate what that august body does to it in committee and in open session become of importance and interest

The senate has been in continuous session since March 4 After the formal reading today of the president's proclamation calling the two houses together a committee was appointed by Vice President Sherman to wait on the president and inform him that the senate was ready to receive any communication he might be pleased to send A recess was declared until the president's message should come

Hear from Constituents.

Washington March 15—So confident are the ... the insurgents and the Democrats—in their fight against the adoption of the rules governing the ... congress for the present session that Champ Clark declared he would be elected speaker of the house if the allies had another week in which to prepare for the fray This assertion was based largely on the fact that various Republicans have received a large number of telegrams from their constituents urging them to defeat Cannon for speaker

WESTON BEGINS HIS LONG TRAMP TODAY

Veteran Starts from New York for San Francisco

New York March 15—From New York to San Francisco on foot is the long tramp planned by Edward Payson Weston the world's most famous walker who began his journey today at the New York postoffice

Today is Mr Weston's seventieth birthday His age is probably the most astonishing feature of his venture since the walk from New York to the Pacific coast in the time in which Mr Weston promises to do it is one to tax severely the powers of a man half his age He expects to cover the route more than 4000 miles long in 100 days excluding Sundays It is a matter of principle with Mr Weston never to walk on Sunday He devotes the day to rest and to delivering temperance lectures The expenses of his trips are paid from the proceeds of the lectures

Mr Weston first attracted the world's attention as a pedestrian in 1867 when he walked from Portland Me to Chicago in 26 days In 1907 Mr Weston repeated that walk but bettered his record by 25 hours

On his present trip Mr Weston will be accompanied by journalists from various cities and an attendant and his manager

This is probably the first and only attempt ever made to cross America under surveillance during the entire trip said Mr Weston in talking of his venture and I intend to create a record for younger men to aim at in future years

I believe that I shall make this trip in even better time than the schedule In preparation for the event I have been walking 25 to 30 miles daily for the past several months

A VERY IMPORTANT PROVISION OF BILL

Clause Will Permit Canners of Meat and Vegetables

Washington March 16—A new drawback clause that will be of vast benefit to canners of meat fruit and vegetables is one of the most important provisions in the new tariff bill according to authoritative information Monday

Under the present law canners can secure a return of the duty paid on tin plate imported into this country by identifying the tin plate when it is made into cans and exported again This also applies to iron ore imported and afterwards exported as rails or machinery and to any other manufacturers not the imported to be made up in another form and exported again

The new law will provide that it is unnecessary to identify the particular piece of tin plate or ore imported in order to secure the return when the manufacturer is able to export it The idea of the new provision is to aid American labor that makes up the raw materials brought into this country for export again The new clause will stimulate the importation of Cuban iron ore according to steel experts

CURB POWER OF HOUSE SPEAKER

Representatives Revise Their Rules of Procedure

FITZGERALD'S PLAN ADOPTED

That of Minority Leader Clark Cast Aside

Democratic Floor Leader and New York Member Have Sharp Exchange of Words During Debate Cannon Says He Is Satisfied with Result of Insurgents' Fight and Announces New Policy

Washington March 16—By a vote of 211 to 1 a resolution by Mr Fitzgerald (Dem) was adopted by the house after one of the stormiest sessions in its history

The resolution was a substitute for one offered by Mr Clark of Missouri and provided for several important amendments to the rules governing the deliberations of the house

Its adoption was accomplished only after the insurgents with the aid of the Democrats with one or two exceptions had won a decided preliminary victory by voting down a resolution by Mr Dalzell of Pennsylvania ... the unamended rules of the Sixtieth congress applicable to those of the present congress The call of the roll on the resolution was followed with intense interest

Such was the fever heat of the measure that Clark of Missouri got into a spirited colloquy with Mr Dalzell who had mounted to the rostrum to read the resolution of the minority leader Mr Clark wanted him ordered away from the desk to which he proceeded Mr Dalzell objected saying he had a right to know what the measure contained This incident led to a controversy with the speaker which lasted long enough for Mr Dalzell to get the information he desired and then step down from the platform and return to his seat

Shortly afterward when Mr Fitzgerald's resolution was up Mr Fitzgerald was drawn into a colloquy with Mr Clark who desired him to yield for a question Much bitterness was displayed by the two men Mr Fitzgerald at first refused to yield He later did so but Mr Clark declined his proffer of time remarking that the New York member would live to regret his action which called for the retort from Mr Fitzgerald that he was not to be swerved by any threats

What Parliamentarians Say

As analyzed by parliamentarians the amendment makes three important changes First it establishes a calendar for unanimous consents the effect of which is to enable a member to have a proposition brought before the house without having to go to the speaker for his permission This change they say will be of great benefit to the speaker Second when consideration of a bill is concluded and the previous question is ordered the rule heretofore provided for a motion to commit with or without instructions It has been the practice to recognize a member of the majority party to make this motion and thus prevent the minority from offering such instructions as it may desire The new rule gives the minority the preference in making such a motion and thus enables them to get a record vote on propositions which would otherwise be killed in committee of the whole house where no record vote is possible Third it protects the calendar Wednesday by requiring a two thirds instead of a majority vote to set it aside Fourth it is also claimed that the amendment will have the effect of preventing favoritism by the action of the committee on rules in special cases

A prominent feature of the Clark resolution was an amendment providing for a committee of 15 members to revise amend and codify the rules and much of the opposition to it was because of this fact As adopted the Fitzgerald amendment makes no change in the present method of the selection of the committee on rules which is made by the speaker nor is there any change in the method of selecting committees

Cannon Pleased With Result

Speaker Cannon is inclined to regard the amendment as a slight improvement on the present rule in that instead of throwing the responsibility for recognition on him it sets aside certain days for the consideration of measures under unanimous consent but he says under the new rule members will have to wait for those days

In a conversation soon after the action of the house he commented freely upon the fact that Mr Bryan had interfered in the interest of the changes submitted by Mr Clark and spoke of the adoption of the Fitzgerald substitute as a triumph over the Bryan forces saying that the conservative Democrats who really want legislation had practically stood for the old rules with the amendments offered by Mr Fitzgerald

It was he said a protest by the conservatives against Populism and all kindred things

Cannon Retaliates

Washington March 16—Only five committees of the house will be named by Speaker Cannon at the present These will be ways and means rules printing mileage and accounts The other committees will be announced about the time the special session is ready to adjourn

In making up the committees it is stated on reliable authority the speaker will consult with every member of the house who desires to discuss assignments with him This means that Minority Leader Clark will not enjoy the privilege accorded his predecessor John Sharp Williams of selecting the minority members

The attitude taken by the Democrats at a caucus after the house adjourned is in sharp conflict with the new policy of Speaker Cannon A resolution was adopted to prevent members of the minority accepting appointment on any committee without the previous approval of the present minority leader Mr Clark

IMPRESSIONS OF ITALIAN VISITOR

Historian Ferrero Says Americans Pupils Not So Earnest as Those of Europe

"America and Europe are not so different as is generally supposed" is the opinion of Guglielmo Ferrero the Italian historian recently expected at Washington "Europe is rapidly becoming Americanized in spirit at least is absorbing American ideas and practices and in America tendencies are apparent which are leading to an adoption or rather absorption of European culture For no other reason the tremendous immigration of foreigners into the United States must tend to this result No I could hardly call it a strict Anglo-Saxon country I feel I am not competent to judge I have seen only New York Boston Washington They say the west is more truly representative of the country than the great cities of the Atlantic states I shall go to Chicago later on after staying a month in New York but my impression is that the so much talked of Anglo-Saxon has no very large part in the makeup of the average American citizen

Mr Ferrero has visited H... and Columbia but is extremely modest in judging his own ability to comment upon them with understanding

Your American universities are different from ours in Europe more complicated said he to the Washington correspondent of the New York Post it is not easy for a foreigner to understand your systems and methods Still, those institutions which I have seen are very fine The students here seem perhaps to be less prone to self exertion—that is at least in the direction of acquiring knowledge than they are with us Here in the colleges there is so much that diverts ... in sports I fear the American students are not so much in earnest as are ours In Italy at one end of the university one is compelled to study but here it is not so Of course I had no opportunity to become personally acquainted with any of your students but this is my impression I have however met the members of the faculty at Harvard and they have been very kind and have told me many interesting things

Have you seen any of our libraries

Ah the bibliotheque—the libraries They are truly wonderful I had luncheon in the magnificent library of congress It is a wonderful building and the decorations are superb Everything is so systematized ... what we lack in Italy Of course we have collections of great antiquity far more value from a historical standpoint Our manuscripts and ancient documents are priceless compared with your collections but we lack the system the organization of a library as I see it here in Washington That is a fine library they have in Boston It is almost equal to the one here in Washington And in New York I saw a stupendous building in the process of construction to be devoted to the same purpose It is not possible for me to express the wonder of these institutions It is one of the finest things I have seen in America We in Europe might do well to copy your American enterprise in this direction When I think of the wonders I have seen I can compare the library of congress only to the library of Alexandria"

Mr Ferrero is a man of thirty seven years although he appears to be somewhat older Tall and slight and he is rated looking after a continental rather than an American type He is not taken in the United States as a lecturer rather than what he is He was invited to the United States by Mayor des Planches Italian ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington at the suggestion of President Roosevelt who expressed himself as desirous of meeting the historian whose works he has read Mr Ferrero and his wife spent the week as guests at the White House

Mr Ferrero has expressed himself of the opinion that history should be written by live politicians or men who have had practical experience of legislative or executive government who can speak with authority on the subject He says too much history is written by professors isolated from the world in their libraries

Mr Ferrero shook his head when asked what he thought of the president in his daily life ... ways on the go was his answer That is the strenuous life I suppose but it he goes on all the time the way he did those days I don't see how he stands it It would kill any ordinary man

I greatly desire to become acquainted with the history of the United States It is not generally studied in Italy and I myself am decidedly ignorant of past events in this part of the world but I think your history is important especially that belonging to the period between the war of independence and the civil war My time in this country is short however that I fear I shall not be able to go into the subject as I desire

The foreign commerce of the country fell off about $ 00 ... last year The greatest decline noticed at the Atlantic ports

EXPRESS COMPANIES DECLINE BUSINESS

Will Not Carry Beer Out of Dry Territory

EFFECT OF DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT

Companies Will Carry Liquors of All Kinds into Dry Territory but Will Not Carry It Out of Territory Covered by Local Option Laws—Railroads Handle Business

Following close upon several decisions that have been handed down by the supreme courts of states where there are local option laws similar to those existing in this state the Wells Fargo & Company express the Adams Express company and the American Express company have issued statements to the effect that they can not handle beer. The notices contain but little explaining the action of the officials of the companies.

However the companies as common carriers are not willing to take the risk incidental to carrying beer from dry territory whether its destination is dry or wet territory. Whether there is a risk is a question but it is evident that the express companies feel that where a trial test is made of the law regulating the traffic the companies would be liable.

On the other hand the express companies will handle shipments of liquor such as beer whiskies or wines enroute from wet territory with dry territory as the destination.

The railroad companies thus far have handled the shipments for the local brewers.

HOW RELIGION GROWS

By William T. Ellis

The International Sunday-School Lesson for March 21 Is a Quarterly Review

Truth is of interest to most persons only in its present relations. None but a few rare souls care for truth in the abstract and dissociated from time and place. Even historical truth has its chief value as it is linked to the present. The reason for the weekly study of the Sunday school lesson by twenty five millions of persons is not the desire to acquire a certain amount of historical data so much as it is to obtain motive power for current conduct and light upon contemporaneous problems. The life depicted in the old Book is needed as a help for the life that is lived in this year 1909. For three months the Sunday schools have been working in the Book of Acts considering the beginning of Christianity. Now at the end of the quarter they pause for a backward look.

The story unfolded in these nine chapters is the story of an expanding church. At once the observing reader is struck by the parallel between this ancient narrative and present conditions in some mission lands. A perfectly proper as well as an eminently interesting method of presenting the underlying truths of the quarter's lessons is by a frank contemplation of modern missionary growth ever keeping in mind of course this first missionary story.

The Romance of Korea

A mere handful of inconsiderable persons held the foreground in the opening of this story. The faith-filled company of disciples was very small. They were like the apparently negligible missionary force that has dared to go up against entrenched error in many lands. Yet as a result of their character and teaching and witness a multitude of others were influenced in the succeeding ten years and the little church grew like a snowball even as it has grown in the past dozen years in Korea.

The romance of Korea should be an ever recurring theme in Christian churches. There the reality of Christ and the power of His gospel have taken hold of the lives of the natives in transforming fashion. The very faces of the Christians show they possess a treasure which old Korea never knew. In consequence it is their meat and drink to tell the story of the gospel. Now there is in Korea a church of more than one hundred thousand members that may be said to constitute the dominating factor in the nation's life. Even Prince Ito recognizes this so clearly that a few days ago he dismissed a member of the Korean cabinet for criticising the missionaries saying that the critic did not know what he was talking about. Many persons are prophesying that Korea will be the first of the Oriental nations to be wholly Christianized and that it will in turn be the evangelist of the Orient.

Some Wonders of Missions

The conspicuous event in the early church was Pentecost. This is a stumbling block to the materially minded. Simply because spiritual things are spiritually discerned they can find no parallel or rational explanation for this supernatural endowment of the infant church. Just so recent events in India, China and Korea have staggered observers. The first equipment of a strong growing church must be a profound and memorable spiritual experience.

There has been in the growing Christian community of Northern India such manifestations of the presence of the Divine Spirit as are almost too strange to be told to Occidental ears. The aid Bishop Warne Methodist Episcopal bishop of India narrating some experiences in the Indian revival to great congregations at Ocean Grove last summer. In conversation with him afterward I asked why he had not described certain phases of the revival about which we had talked together in India. He frankly admitted that the American churches were scarcely able to bear such testimony; their incredulity would hinder the effect of his message. (So he had to feed them with milk rather than with meat.)

Up in sordid material unimaginative Manchuria there is at present in progress a revival like unto nothing which the Western world knows. Whole villages are gripped by a spiritual power; strong men fall prostrate and writhing, confessing their sins and crying aloud for mercy. Christians are being baptized with a consciousness of peace and joy which sends them gladly out to neighboring villages as evangels of heir faith. Of like fashion and even more extensive was the revival that began to sweep over Korea two years ago, purifying the native church coming men to being for human meet for repentance and confounding skeptics everywhere.

Inexplicable all this may be upon grounds of human reasoning, yet no man ready to accept credible testimony can doubt it. It is the infant church's Pentecost repeated also would seem to be in order that like the company of disciples of old they may be equipped for the propaganda of their faith.

Persecution and Progress

Last times make soft character. The timid Christians are those who are called upon to stand and withs and more for the sake of the Name. The deepest prosperity and steadiest development of the Christian church have been in the face of adverse conditions. Men prize the truth to which they must suffer. Throughout all the ages the principle has held true even as it did in Jerusalem that the fidelity of persecuted Christians has meant the substantial development of the church.

Opposition attracts attention. It makes Christianity a living issue. When men have to fight for their faith they and the world around them begin to realize its significance. Unbelievers are won to a religion which is worth suffering for. The eternal appeal to the heroic has its effect. A young Philadelphia churchman has gone to India to be a friar or a Christian fakir or holy man. His method is to seek out the worst possible places, plague villages, pest camps, leper settlements and such like—and there give himself to the service of the lowest—to the man utterly beyond a re[illegible] upon revered degraded by the natives. In a short time however they discovered that persecution could not shut him and that the more they reviled him the kindlier he became. This spirit broke their opposition. The village that treated him worst soon was beseeching him to remain with them permanently as their holy man. Already he has had conspicuous success in the way of converts won to Christ.

Winning by Witnessing

Up in a village near Sendai, Japan the town drunkard became a Christian. His wife followed suit. Straightway such a transformation in his character ensued that the whole community took notice. The result was that the entire community turned to Christianity either with respect and deference or an open conviction and conversion. The apostolic method of increasing the Christian church was by the witness of the disciples. Every Christian testified to his faith. This he made his chief business in life.

The same principle holds true in Korea. There it is a common thing for a man to move his home and business from a Christian village off to a non-Christian village in order that he may there be a witness and teacher of the Jesus way.

One of the missionary bishops of China was surprised to have a request from a theological student that he be permitted to go to a certain part of China after his training had been completed. He explained his unusual request by saying that during the Boxer days of 1900 his family had lived in that town. His Christian father was called out by the Boxers and given his choice of recanting or perishing. When he remained faithful he was cut down. Then his mother was brought out into the road and shown the dismembered body of her husband and bidder to burn incense before an idol and to repudiate the Jesus religion. She told them that they could cut out her tongue but that they could not make her deny her Lord. Thereupon she too was slain. A young sister was put through the same ordeal and remained faithful unto death. "Now" said the young student "I want to go back to that village to represent Jesus Christ. I want my old neighbors to know that there is not a shred of bitterness in my heart and that my supreme ambition is there to live for the Master for whom my family died."

It was glowing instances of this sort that made even the hordes of ignorant Chinese aware that the futile persecution of [illegible] that Christianity is ineradicable in China. What the Sanhedrin could not do in the way of blotting out Christianity what Rome could not do and what all the leagued powers of earth and darkness through the centuries since have been unable to do as attested by the world wide prevalence of Christianity with men and women by the myriads of legions who are willing to go to death for the sake of the Name.

AFFAIRS OF INTEREST ALONG STEEL WAYS

An Erie Passenger Accident and Lucky Ending

THE EXPERIENCE OF A PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN

Car Runs Thirty Miles After Losing a Wheel—Conductor Townmister Is Shaken Up by Caboose Being Hit in the Erie Yards—Other Notes Picked Up in the Local Yards

Discoe Hill, about forty miles west of Huntington, was the scene of another wreck Saturday night. The Erie had a serious wreck about a year ago at the same point.

About 7:40 Saturday evening as passenger No 21 in charge of Engineer LeRoy Sweetland, Fireman James Motz, Conductor E N Kohn and Brakeman C M Donathan was passing down the big hill the left front driving axle broke loose and tore off the main driver of the locomotive. As the train was moving quite fast the entire left side of the engine was stripped and the pieces in turn tore off a number of the brake beams of the engine and of a number of cars. As a result the air brakes were rendered useless. Suddenly the engine broke loose from the train and ran a distance of two miles. Fortunately the train ran but a mile and a half, it being derailed by pieces from the engine which had caught under the trucks of the first car.

The train ran within a few inches of the edge of a twenty foot embankment. A great many passengers were aboard but did not realize their danger until it was passed. As soon as the train crew noticed the trouble the conductor went ahead and the brakeman to the rear of the train to locate the engine as neither could account for its whereabouts.

George J Gould strengthened his position in the Missouri Pacific Monday when at a meeting of the board of directors Kingdon Gould, eldest son of George J Gould, and H B Henson, another Gould lieutenant, were elected to the executive committee to succeed respectively S Davies Warfield and Stuyvesant Fish, both of whom retired from the executive committee several months ago. The committee as now constituted consists of George J Gould, Kingdon Gould, Frank J Gould, Edwin Gould, H B Henson, E T Jeffrey and Fred J Gates.

John Boler, a brakeman on the Erie hump crew, suffered a slight accident Monday afternoon. Boler was riding a car which had been stopped when unexpectedly a cut of cars hit the one he was riding, knocking Boler with a good deal of force from the top of the car. He was not badly hurt, but was cut and bruised by the fall.

Erie Freight Conductor W I Townmister got quite a shaking up Monday evening when a switching crew threw a car against his caboose in the west end yards. Townmister was thrown with a great deal of force to the floor of the caboose. He was not badly hurt.

When No 8, one of the Pennsylvania flyers, reached Crestline early Monday a wheel was missing from one of the Pullman trucks. Later it was found thirty miles west of Crestline, several hundred feet from the track. It had leaped thirty feet to a mound.

MRS FRANK SUTTON DIES AT GREEN CAMP

Death Comes Without Warning Friday Afternoon

The funeral of Mrs Frank Sutton, who died at her home here Friday afternoon, was held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev Samuel Fulton, assisted by Rev M C Wiseley, were in charge of the services. The remains were taken to Morrow county for burial.

Mrs Sutton was very well known and held in high esteem by all who knew her. She was twice married. The jury went out Friday night about 9 o'clock All day Friday the court room was crowded with interested spectators At one time when several persons laughed at a remark made to the jury by Attorney J P Moloney Judge Daniel Babst threatened to clear the court room if the offense was repeated

WARNER & EDWARDS, STORE IS BURGLARIZED

Thieves Gain Entrance to Store Through Skylight

THE FELLOWS CARRY SOME SILK AWAY

Captain A. L. Bond Captures Youth Saturday Night—A Man Suspected of Prowling About Houses Is Picked Up by the Police but Is Released—Some Police Notes

When the proprietors and clerks of the silk department arrived at the Warner & Edwards store Monday they discovered that a quantity of silk dress goods was missing, and the paper wrappings on the floor indicated that the store had been burglarized. On investigation it was seen that a skylight at the rear had been broken and that the thief or thieves had entered by the roof route.

Chief Cornwell and Officer Babcock were notified and visited the store.

Entrance to the place was gained by unlocking the door of the stairway between the drygoods store and the Heidley Drug company. By breaking a glass in the door of the band room on the third floor over the drug store the burglars reached the roof of the Warner & Edwards store. A heavy glass in the skylight was broken and the thief let himself down or was lowered to the floor by means of a rope. The foot marks could be plainly seen on the wains coting of the skylight. The proprietors stated that quite an amount of silk was taken but could not say just how much. Most of the silk was of thirty six inch width and black. When the janitor opened the store Monday morning all of the doors were locked.

Chief Cornwell is of the opinion that the burglary was made by two men probably Saturday night. It is believed that one man was let down with the rope by another and that the exit from the place was made by the same route. A large piece of the skylight was removed after the glass was broken and this with the two smaller pieces was replaced by the burglars. Several years ago the store was entered in the same manner and a large quantity of [illegible] piled up by the thief. This was believed to have been the work of Jimmy Kane who was captured in the Ringer & Jennings store the same night. It is believed he entered the latter place to secure suit cases in which to carry away the silk. Kane is now serving in the penitentiary for the offense. The police are of the opinion that the burglary was committed by persons who possess a good knowledge of the place and its surroundings.

Residents of Vine street between Church and Center streets have made complaints to the local police several nights that a man has been seen prowling about residences. As a result Captain Bond has been making trips to the vicinity for several nights to try and meet the man who is the cause of complaint.

Saturday night about 11 o'clock Captain Bond saw a man go through the yard to the rear of the [illegible] home. He followed him and a short time later escorted him to the street. Several pedestrians who happened to be passing were called to identify him. The man informed the officer that he had taken a friend home from the show and was enroute to his home in the southwest portion of the city. As he was known by one of the men called by the officer his story as to why he entered the yard was believed and he was allowed to go.

Michael O'Mara made a trip to Bucyrus Saturday and being successful in collecting a bill there he returned to Marion after celebrating by getting drunk. Officer Babcock arrested him about 5 o'clock at the corner of Main and Center street. O'Mara attempted to strike the officer and twice the latter was compelled to knock him down with his mace. O'Mara had three bottles of whisky in his pockets but not one was broken by his falls. He was arraigned before the mayor Monday morning and pleading guilty to the charges of drunkenness and resisting an officer he was fined $10.

While Captain Bond was making the rounds of the city about 7 o'clock Saturday evening he [illegible] down [illegible]. On reaching the alley at the rear of the old [illegible] hotel he was attracted by voices [illegible] the end of the [illegible] a few feet from the alley. Drawing his flashlight he cast the light in the direction of the voices and at the same time a lad jumped [illegible] and started on a run down [illegible] ward Center street.

The officer gave chase [illegible] the lad into stopping [illegible] shot. [illegible] the exit on Center [illegible] was caught by Thomas [illegible] happened to be passing and heard the shots. At police station [illegible] that he was in company [illegible] but had no accomplish [illegible]. An investigation followed and it was learned that the girl was Mabel Montgomery aged nine years who resides with her parents at the home of Louis Trimble on north Main street. The father of the girl who is nursing Trimble said that the girl had not been away from home but her brother of the [illegible] she had. The case was turned over to the Humane society owing to the ages of the boy and girl.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Monday evening a man was seen on the roof of a small building at the rear of Kleinmaier's store on west Center street by H. J. Carpenter. One of the proprietors was notified by telephone and Officer Bell was notified. The officer went to the building to see if there had been an attempt to break in one of the second story windows. There were indications that some person had been on the roof and a short time previous two men were seen in the alley by a painter who has a shop at the rear of the store. The man on the roof had been frightened away by Carpenter who was unable to get a description of the fellow.

LAD REFUSES TO ATTEND SCHOOL

Arthur McVela Is Sent to Lancaster Saturday

Because twelve year old Arthur McVely refused to go to the public schools and persisted in playing truant he is now an inmate of the Boys Industrial school at Lancaster.

Mrs. Theresa Drake the boy's mother filed an affidavit against her son charging him with incorrigibility.

When arraigned before Probate Judge W. S. Spencer the youth seemed unconcerned as to what punishment was to be meted out to him because of his determination to play truant apparently the court held nothing in store that gave him terror. The little fellow was calm and silent.

When the boy refused to attend the public schools Rev. Father Joseph Denning was seen with a view to having the lad become a pupil in the parochial school. But the parochial school did not appeal to him any more than did the public school. Then it was decided to send him to the Boys Industrial school. He was given an indeterminate sentence by the probate judge and Saturday he was taken to Lancaster by Probation Officer S. A. Titus.

The Sitritt home on south State street was the scene of a pleasant gathering Monday evening when Mrs. Frank Sitritt superintendent of the primary department of Epworth M. E. church entertained the teachers and officers of the primary and kindergarten departments. The affair was a farewell party in honor of the primary assistant superintendent Miss Clara Titus who will leave Saturday morning for Peoria Illinois where she has accepted a position similar to the one she held in the office of the Huber company. Miss Titus has been interested in primary work for the past several years and in appreciation of her services she was presented a handsome leather traveling bag. Miss Titus responded with a neat speech of acceptance.

The time was passed with various games and vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed. The hostess served nice refreshments.

Mrs. William Corcuffo entertained a company of friends at an old fashioned quilting at her home last Friday. The afternoon was passed with sewing and chat and lunch was served.

Now for a Building Sale.

The paper hangers have completed the arduous task of treating the walls of this densely packed store. Now the plans and specifications for the tearing out of the rear building and replacing it with a larger one are in the hands of the contractors. This means more room when it is all done, but compels a reduction of stock while the work is going on.

Those who took advantage of our improvement sale found genuine discounts, and went away satisfied, as everyone always has with the methods of this store.

This building sale will prove at least as satisfactory as our improvement sale has been, as it is even more necessary.
Now you had better hurry.
